

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

EXPLANATIONS AND ABBREVIATIONS.

As Joseph Peck, the ancestor whose descendants the work was designed to contain, had six sons, each of whom had families, it is divided into six parts, giving the descendants of each son separately.

The numerals or consecutive numbers at the left of the names represent the number of each person individually from the ancestor.

This + sign placed before a name indicates that the person becomes a parent, and refers forward to the number of that person closed in brackets, where he and his family may be found.

When the name is not carried forward to another place in the book, whatever is said of the person is said in connection with and immediately following his father's family.

The figures in brackets at the left of the name refer back to the numerals, where that person and his father's family may be found.

The small figure over the name and above the line indicates the number of the generation to which the person belongs.

b, is used for born; bap. for baptized; m. for married; and unm. for unmarried.

T. Rec., B. 8, p. 367, means Taunton records, book 8, page 367; R. stands for Rehoboth; S. for Swansey; B. for Bristol; Bar. for Barrington; St. for Scituate; W. for Warren; P. for Providence; C. for Cumberland; A. for Attleborough; and cht. for chart or pedigree.

N A M E .

Pek, Peck or Pecke, Peke, Peak or Peake, found in the different works on heraldry, are supposed by some to have been originally the same ; but Peck and Peak were doubtless distinct names.

During a portion of the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries, many of the Pecks added the final e to their names, as indeed did the English to almost every name that would admit of it. So far as I learn, the Pecks now universally drop it.

The name is of very ancient origin. There are various theories as to its original meaning or signification, and conjectures and speculations as to those who first bore it, as there are in relation to other names, frequently given by those who write genealogies, and those who furnish arms and pedigrees, to order. Of these a chapter might be given ; but as I design to deal with facts, and not legends and conjectures, I leave them all out as not worth the space they would occupy.

The name is of great antiquity. They are found seated in England, in Belton, Yorkshire, at a very early date. From there they spread into other portions of Europe, and are now found scattered throughout every country where civilization has found its way.

A branch settled at Hesden and Wakefield, in Yorkshire, whose descendants removed to Beccles, Suffolk County, and were the ancestors of Joseph Peck, of Hingham, Norfolk County, who became the emigrant ancestor to this country.

It will be seen by the pedigree, to which the reader is referred, that he was a lineal descendant in the twenty-first generation from John Peck, Esq., of Belton, Yorkshire, and baptized April 30, 1587, being in the fiftieth year of his age when he emigrated to this country.

PEDIGREE.

The pedigree, as it is here given, may be found in the British Museum, London, England, excepting the two last families, those of Robert and Joseph, which are added to it.

The family of Robert, and the eldest children of Joseph, are from the parish records of Hingham, England. The three youngest children of Joseph are from the records at Hingham, Massachusetts, being born here.

It will be seen that the pedigree extends back from Joseph, twenty generations, to John Peck, Esq., of Belton, Yorkshire, and must be of interest to all who feel an interest in the subject.

The following is the certificate of the heralds accompanying the pedigree and arms in the British Museum.

20th Nov. 1620.

Henry St. George, Richmond.

Henry Chitting, Chester.

John Philpott, Rouge Dragon.

It may be translated to mean that they had seen or examined it, acknowledged it true, and entered it upon record, or placed it in the archives of the Heralds' College on the day and year above written.

ARMS.

The arms, which are here given in colors, are in the British Museum, with the pedigree certified to by the heralds. The quartering is with the Brunning and Hesselden families, the heiresses of which the early Pecks married.

The first and fourth are the arms of Peck, the second of Brunning, and the third of Hesselden, and in heraldic language may be thus emblazoned or described :

Peck — Argent, on a chevron engrailed, Gules, three Crosses formée, of the first.

Brunning — Azure, two bars nebule, Argent.

Hesselden — Gules, a cross patonce, Or ; on a chief, Azure ; three round buckles of the second.

Crest — A cubit arm erect, habited, Azure ; cuff, Argent ; hand proper, holding on one stalk, enfiled with a scroll ; three roses, Gules ; leaves, Vert.

There are in the British Museum the arms of Peck, impaled with the arms of many families, into which they have married.

There is no motto recorded with the early arms of the family. The one given, "Probitatem quam divitias," "probity (or truth and honesty) rather than riches" has been added. Some of the Pecks in England who use the arm and rose for a crest, I am told, have added or adopted for a motto, "Crux Christi salus mea," or "the cross of Christ is my salvation." *

The arms upon the cover of the book, are the ancient arms of Peck before the crest or the arms of the Brunning and Hesselden families, or the motto, was added.

* A crest or a motto is not a part of a coat of arms, but they are added or adopted by those entitled to the arms who desire to do so.

The helmet is sometimes used without the crest, as it is upon the tombstone at page 34, and sometimes with the crest. It is used with the crest, on the arms of Peck, in the British Museum.

GENEALOGY.

INTRODUCTION.

I MAKE no apology for having devoted so much time, labor and expense to the genealogy and history of the Pecks. To such of my readers, if any such there should be, as have no taste for such subjects, — who never knew or wished to know so much as the name of their grandfather, or who their ancestors were, or where they came from, — who have no respect for their memories, and not love enough for their parents to erect gravestones to their memory, or care whether their remains are covered or above ground, apology would be of no use, or arguments to show the duties we owe them, or the good that may result from such works to future generations, of no avail.

To such of my readers as can appreciate the motives and feelings which led me to attempt the task, and such of my friends as have urged me to pursue the subject to the extent I have, there is no necessity for apology. To these, I hope the work may prove acceptable and pleasing.

No one of them will ever know the amount of labor and toil and money it has cost me, or the difficulties, perplexities and discouragements with which I have had to contend. The collection of the material, and the arrangement of it, has occupied much of my time for more than ten years. During the time, I have not only travelled much, but my correspondence has extended into nearly all the United States and Territories, the British Provinces, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, the Canadas and England. I have written and sent out about 3,000 letters, and 1,000 printed circulars. Of these letters, I have preserved copies of over 2,700. In answer to them, I have on file received from my correspondents over 2,000, many of them of much interest, all of which, if published, would make a volume many times larger than this. The manuscript has all of it been written over twice, much of it three, and some of the appendix four times, to admit of additional families and different arrangements of its several branches.

I hope to have been the means of bringing to light and preserving much that would otherwise have been lost. I feel that the work contains, not only much that is valuable now, but that will be more so as time passes away, and the names and histories of those now living, as well as those now gone, shall have been forgotten. I have endeavored to make the records it contains as full and correct as possible; but, where information and records are collected from so many different individuals and such a variety of sources, the information from one often conflicting with that from another, without the means of determining which is correct, it is very difficult to avoid errors.

Those who have never attempted to collect genealogical information know little of the difficulties attendant upon such labors. I have found many obstacles to contend with, which, could I have foreseen, I never should have attempted the task I have endeavored to accomplish. It often occurs that members of the same families will disagree as to the intended orthography of their names, and in relation to the dates of the births and deaths in the family; and when an appeal from them to the family record is made, and from that to the town record, each will be found to disagree with the other. In such cases I must leave them out, or adopt the one in which I had the most confidence. Persons of the same name often insist upon spelling it differently. In writing the names, I have generally followed the usual orthography, unless varied by the parent or person themselves. In copying from tombstones and early records, I have intended to preserve the ancient orthography.

In collecting information by correspondence, it often occurs that letters received will be such as to render it impossible to determine what was intended by many of the names and dates. The authors of such letters, when written to for explanations, often refused or neglected to answer my letters, — perhaps offended because I could not read their letters, or uncertain themselves in relation to the names and information given. Sometimes information must be received from aged persons, the only source from which it can be obtained. They are liable in the presence of a stranger, approach them with all the care you can, to become confused, or, from the impaired condition of their memories, to give incorrect information. Some of my information has been received from town clerks; they are liable to errors in copying records, often old, worn and defaced.

After the work was arranged, it was carefully read through and compared with the letters, records and documents from which it was compiled; and where records given by different individuals and by the same individual at different times disagreed, or wherever errors of any kind were suspected, letters of inquiry were written. Some of these were promptly answered, and the corrections, when necessary, were made. Others were not answered until the work was in the press, too late for corrections or additions, except at the end of the book.

After the records and historical matter were printed, it was again read through, and such errors as were found, whether typographical or otherwise, however small or of little consequence, were pointed out. This was preferred, rather than leave them to the conjecture and query of the reader, as is sometimes done in such works.

Another source of much difficulty and unpleasant feeling in collecting this kind of information is the little interest felt in the subject by many. Some, when called upon, would appear to think it an imposition to be asked for a record of their families, or to be supposed to know their ages, or to know the name of their grandfather, or to care who their ancestors were, or where they came from. Such persons were generally anxious to know if there was any "property anywhere coming to the Pecks that I was after," evidently thinking more of counting their dollars than keeping records of their families. Others, when called upon, would express an interest in the subject, and a willingness to send me, at some future time, records of their families, if they could only know who their ancestors were, how far back I had traced them, etc., but, when given the information, which perhaps had cost me months or years of labor, would forget their promises, and it would be the last I should hear of them or their records.

But those who have done the most to delay and injure the work and me, are those who have expressed an interest in the subject they seem never to have felt, made promises only to break them, and those who, when written to with the return postage, etc., inclosed, have neglected or refused to answer my letters and return my circulars. I would forget these gentlemen, and the unkindness — to call it by no other name — which I have received from some of them, if I could.

Although there have been many things unpleasant and discouraging in the preparation of the work, it has not all been so. In my travels, as well as in my correspondence, I have found many friends, who have lent me their aid and assistance, and treated me with a kindness and generosity that can never be forgotten. Some have subscribed for a number of copies, and furnished me with engravings of their likenesses for the work. To all such I return my sincere thanks, especially to those who have had them engraved especially for the work.

The book is larger than it was at first expected to be. When my circulars were issued for subscribers, it was supposed, as stated in them, that it would contain about 350 pages, and about 6,000 names, including those who had become allied with the Pecks by marriage, and others; but much was afterwards added, and it now contains, notwithstanding I have condensed it all I could, 440 pages and over 11,000 names.

It was at first designed to arrange the names of the children in single columns, but, by leaving out the surname Peck and substituting b. for born, and using smaller type, they have been put in double columns. This reduced the size of the work about one quarter, and improved its appearance. In the appendix the names of the children follow each other, like other matter. There were so large a number of children in these branches of the name whose births and deaths I could not obtain, that to arrange them in columns made the work too open and broken to look well.

In condensing the work, foreign matter only has been left out. I have endeavored to retain all the names and dates, places of residence, early settlements, and such wills, deeds and papers as were thought to be of interest and best worth preserving, with the references and data by which the persons contained in the work might be traced out, and a more extended history of them learned, if desired. Had the work been arranged and printed as open as such works sometimes are, the descendants of the female branches traced out, more history and biography of the different individuals given, and matter foreign to the subject admitted, it would have been so large and expensive as to be purchased by but a few. It is now within the reach of every one. It will be found to contain the descendants of Joseph Peck, who emigrated to this country with his family in 1638, now generally known as the Massachusetts Pecks; with an appendix containing an account of the Boston and Hingham Pecks, also of the descendants of John Peck of Mendon, Mass., Joseph of Milford, Conn., Henry of New Haven, Deacon Paul of Hartford, and an account of some of the descendants of Deacon William of New Haven.

When I commenced my investigations I supposed that all the Pecks of this country were the descendants of Joseph of Massachusetts, but afterwards found that there were others by the name who early emigrated to this country and became progenitors, leaving descendants.

The extensive race of Pecks from Connecticut, now mixed in their settlements with each other and with the Massachusetts Pecks throughout the country, are from other ancestors, who early settled there. To separate these different branches of the same patronymic has been a work of much labor and perplexity. It has been in tracing out the descendants of the different ancestors, separating them from each other, and placing them in their proper positions or families and generations that the most of my labor has been required, and the difficulties and perplexities encountered.

Had all the Pecks of this country been the descendants of one emigrant ancestor, my labors would have been little in comparison to what they now have. The reader will find on examination that the descendants of Joseph, John, Nicholas, Samuel, Nathaniel and Israel Peck, who settled in Rehoboth, and John of Mendon, Mass., Deacon Paul of Hartford, — Deacon William and Henry of New Haven, and Joseph of Milford, ancestors of the Connecticut Pecks, have been separated from each other and arranged under their respective heads as separate ancestors.

What the relationship between the ancestor of the Massachusetts Pecks and the ancestors of the Connecticut Pecks was, or where they came off from the main branch of the name, has not been learned; but it is hoped that some of their descendants will now follow them back, and learn the connecting link. I would have been glad to have attempted this; but to obtain information from the other side of the water requires much time, is very expensive, and none of them offered to assist me, although many of them are men of wealth. Among many of the descendants of these Connecticut Pecks I found a coldness and indifference to the subject that I did not anticipate, and which was very discouraging to me. Although I found some who lent me their aid and assistance, and treated me with a generous kindness that will long be remembered, I found others who I felt treated me with a lack of generosity and an unkindness that I shall try to forget.

In addition to the history in this country of the descendants of Joseph Peck, the ancestor of the Massachusetts Pecks and records of their families, the work will be found to contain not only a pedigree giving a record of his own, his father's and grandfather's families, with the names of his ancestors back from him in regular ascent for twenty generations, with the coat of arms, but also a copy of his own, his father's, his brothers', and his uncles' wills. I think it will be found that but few have been more successful in connecting their name with their English ancestry, or who have done so with any more certainty of correctness. Others may have been more successful in tracing out their names in this country, but I think few have devoted more time and labor to the subject.

The work was not commenced as an enterprise by which to make money. The collection of the material was at first commenced from a love of the subject, and a desire to learn who my ancestors were, and where they came from. After having traced back my own branch of the name to Joseph Peck, the immigrant ancestor to this country, and learned that he was of English descent, I desired to connect him with the name there. This, after a long time, was accomplished, but with much expense. When my friends learned what I had done, they urged me to trace out their branches of the name, and arrange them into families and generations with their proper connections. This I should have never attempted, had I anticipated the great amount of labor and time it required, and the expense attendant upon it. After this was accomplished, and my friends learned the amount and character of the information and material collected, they desired its publication, and offered me their assistance by subscribing for the work, and otherwise, some generously offering to contribute their likenesses for it; and I consented to prepare it for the press.

Although the collection of the material for the work was commenced without the expectation of any assistance or remuneration, its publication was assented to and undertaken with the promise and expectation of the co-operation and assistance of those of the name, by subscribing for the work or otherwise, so far at least as that I should lose nothing by it more than my time and labor. But in this I fear I am to be disappointed. As a means of obtaining subscribers, I have sent out to those of the name circulars for signatures, each containing a request that they should be returned, that I might know whether the person to whom they were addressed received them or not, and whether they would become subscribers. With each was enclosed the postage or return envelope, making the person to whom they were addressed no expense to return them, and as little trouble as I could. Notwithstanding this, less than one half of them have been returned. Of those who returned them, many did not become subscribers. A few not only subscribed themselves, but with much kindness obtained other names. This want of interest in the subject, and unkindness in refusing to return my circulars, was not anticipated; had it been, they never would have been issued. I have obtained a less number of subscribers than was expected, and the work has cost me much more.

The price of the book is lower in proportion to the number of names, the amount of information, and the number and excellence of the engravings it contains, and the present price of publishing, than such works usually are, or than any one of the kind with which I am acquainted. The engravings, which are upon steel, the most of which were done expressly for the work, cost, with the prints, over one thousand dollars. The price, which was limited to four dollars, and the postage in the circulars sent out for subscribers, is too low for the expense of the work. It was fixed when it was supposed the work would contain only about three hundred and fifty pages and six thousand names, and a few engravings, which my friends at first proposed should be lithographs, — an inferior and much cheaper engraving, although such as are often used in books of the kind. It was at first designed to only give the ancient arms of the Pecks printed in black lines, as is usually done in such works, at an expense of eight or ten dollars; but they are now given with the quarterings, crest and motto in colors, and the ancient arms embossed upon the cover, at an expense for both of over one hundred dollars.

Many of my friends have advised me to raise the price of the book in proportion to its increased size and cost; but I have preferred to let the price remain to my subscribers, as limited in the circulars sent out for subscriptions, at four dollars and the postage, and trust to their generosity and sense of justice to contribute towards its increased size and value or not, as they may feel disposed. The price to those not subscribers will be fixed at five dollars. Should any of my subscribers feel generous enough to forward that sum for their books, it will be thankfully received; and, as I must rely upon the sale of other copies in addition to those subscribed for to meet the expenses of the work, I hope many of my friends of the name not subscribers, and others who may chance to become its readers, will purchase it. All who will do so at any time, and assist in its sale, will do me a kindness for which I shall be thankful. Its completion and publication, the collection and arrangement of the additional material and information, and the execution of the engravings, — the last of which was finished but a few days before the work was given to the binder, — occupied more time than was expected; but it has all been to the advantage of the subscriber.

The arrangement of the book has been made plain and easy to be understood. The explanations which follow and those at the commencement of the Index will enable the reader to find the names of the different persons in the work, and trace them forward and find their descendants, or trace them back and find their ancestors, with ease and without confusion.

JOSEPH PECK, THE ANCESTOR.

JOSEPH PECK, the emigrant ancestor of the Pecks in this country, known as the Massachusetts Pecks, now a numerous and extensive race scattered throughout the United States, its Territories, the British Provinces, and the Canadas, was baptized in Beccles, Suffolk County, England, April 30, 1587. *

He was the son of Robert Peck, as will be seen by a reference to the chart, being a descendant in the twenty-first generation from John Peck, of Belton, Yorkshire. He settled at Hingham, Norfolk County, England. In 1638, he and other puritans, with his brother Robert Peck, their pastor, fled from the persecutions of the church to this country. They came over in the ship Diligent of Ipswich, John Martin, master.

Daniel Cushing, then town clerk here at Hingham, Norfolk County, New England, in speaking of his arrival in this country says: "Mr. Joseph Peck and his wife with three sons and daughter and two men servants, and three maid servants, came from Old Hingham, and settled at New Hingham." His children were as follows:

Anna, baptized in Hingham, England, March 12, 1617-18, † and buried there, July 27, 1636. Rebecca, baptized in Hingham, England, May 25, 1620; and, as appears by her father's will, married a

* Upon early records, births and deaths are not often given. They were generally kept by Parish clerks, who only gave the baptisms and burials.

† For an explanation of this kind of dating, see birth of Ichabod Peck, No. 10, Part I.

Hubbert. Joseph, baptized in Hingham, England, August 23, 1623. For the history of him and his descendants, see Part I. John, baptized about 1626. For a history of him and his descendants, see Part II. Nicholas baptized in Hingham, England, April 9, 1630. For his history, see Part III. Samuel, baptized here at Hingham, in New England, February 3, 1638-9, see Part IV. Nathaniel, baptized here at Hingham, New England, October 31, 1641, Part V. Israel, baptized here, March 4, 1644, Part VI.

He was twice married. His first wife was Rebecca Clark. They were married at Hingham, England, May 21, 1617. She died and was buried there, October 24, 1637. The name of his second wife, and the baptism of his son John, was not found. It was not upon the records at Hingham, where his first marriage and the baptisms of his other children were recorded. It probably took place in another parish where the records were not preserved.

He seems to have belonged to that class in England known as gentlemen or the gentry entitled to coat-armor, etc., who ranked next to Baronets.*

Soon after his arrival here, he settled in Hingham, Mass. The records there in 1638 say: .

Mr. Joseph Peck † received a grant of seven acres of land, for a house lot, next to Robert Peck his brother; he also received other grants of land.

* In relation to his political, public or private life in England, or that of his father, I did not attempt to learn anything. To have done so at this late day, now more than two hundred years since they lived, would have been attended with great expense and much uncertainty as to finding anything reliable in relation to them. My resources had been heavily drawn upon in tracing him back to England, connecting him with his ancestors there, and learning what I had in relation to them; and as none of my friends, although many of them were abundantly able, offered to contribute towards the expense, I was obliged to content myself with what I had already learned there, that I might devote my means to tracing out his descendants here.

† This prefix or title of Mr., which is found with his name wherever it appears upon record, indicates the position he occupied in society. It was of much more import and significance then than now. There were but a few of those who came over to whose name it was attached: they generally occupied a lower position in society.

He remained at Hingham about seven years, when he removed to Seekonk.

While he remained at Hingham, he was one of its leading men. He was Representative, or deputy to the General Court in 1639, 1640, 1641 and 1642. He took an active interest in the business of the town. He was one of the selectmen, justice of the peace, assessor, etc.

He was appointed by the court to grant summons and attachments, to see people joined in marriage, to keep the records, etc.

In 1641, he became one of the principal purchasers * of the indians of that tract of land called by them Seacunk or Seeckonk, afterwards incorporated into a town since known as Rehoboth, Mass., at first called eight miles square, but afterwards found to be about ten. It comprised what is now Rehoboth, Seekonk, and Pawtucket. † He did not however remove there until 1645.

Upon the Rehoboth records is the following notice of an accident which befel him on his removal thither :

“ Another strange accident happened by fire about this time. Mr. Joseph Peck, and three others of Hingham, being about to remove to Seaconk, (which was concluded by the Commissioners of the United colonies to belong to Plymouth,) riding thither they sheltered themselves and their horses in an indian wigwam, which by some occasion took fire, and (although there were four in it, and labored to their utmost) burnt three of their horses to death, and all their goods, to the value of fifty pounds.”

* See confirmation deed from the colony to the town of Rehoboth, in 1685, (Plymouth Colony Records, B. 5 P. 341,) also quitclaim deed from William Bradford, in 1689.

† The proprietors of Rehoboth also purchased other lands of the indians. Their second purchase was a tract known as Wanamoiset, being what was afterwards a part of Swansey and Barrington.

Their third purchase was in 1661, from Wamsitta, brother of King Philip, called the north purchase, including what was afterwards Attleborough, Mass. and Cumberland, R. I. It was incorporated into a town, taking the name of Attleborough, in 1694. It remained Attleborough until the settlement of the line between the Plymouth and Rhode Island colony, when the part since Cumberland was set off to Rhode Island. It was incorporated into a town in 1746, taking its present name. It has since been divided, a portion of it taking the name of Woonsocket, the Indian name of the locality.

After his removal to Seekonk, his name continually appears upon the records of the town, in the management of its affairs, until his age precluded him from such duties.

His name also appears upon the Plymouth Colonial records, as it did upon those of Massachusetts.

He was appointed to assist in matters of controversy at court. In 1650, the court appointed him to administer marriage. In 1651, he was appointed to determine all controversies, not exceeding a certain amount. He was also appointed to administer oaths, issue warrants, etc.

He seems to have been one of the principal men here, as he had been at Hingham, as well as one of the wealthiest.

In the purchase of the town as in the appraisal of the purchaser's rights for the apportionment of a tax, there was but one who paid more or whose rights were prized more than his.

In addition to his interest in the first purchase of the town, he afterwards bought other rights which made him a large owner.

His rights in the common undivided lands at his decease were given to his sons, as well as those which had then been divided. In some instances, these lands still remain in the name and are owned and occupied by his descendants. The Pecks of Barrington (Ellis, Asa and others) now occupy lands given to his youngest sons, Nathaniel and Israel.

The proprietors of Rehoboth first settled upon what has since been known as Seekonk Plain,* a tract of cleared land which had been the planting grounds of the indians. The settlers appropriated it to the same purpose until its fertility became exhausted, when they were obliged to leave the plain and seek the smaller openings which were more productive, thus gradually penetrating the wilderness, and extending the settlements of their town.

The house of Joseph, which seems to have been of the better class, stood upon the plain in the northerly part of the "Ring of the Town."* Its location was near the junction of the present Pawtucket with the old Boston and Bristol road, so called, westerly and not far from the present depot of the Boston and Providence Railroad as it crosses the plain.

* Bliss, in his history of Rehoboth, supposes this word to be composed of the indian words seaki, meaning black, and honk, goose — black goose being the indian name for the wild goose, and thinks the place received its name from the fact of great numbers of wild geese in their semi-annual migrations, alighting here in the river and cove adjacent.

It was here that he lived, and died December 23, 1663, in the seventy-seventh year of his age, far from the tombs of his fathers, the associations of his youth, and the scenes of his early life, but doubtless happy in the thought of having been able to worship God after the dictates of his own conscience, and of being surrounded by his children, in whose care his remains would be left to be buried where they would be surrounded by those of his descendants.

No stones, now more than two hundred years since, mark the spot of their interment, but the subsequent graves of his descendants indicate the place.†

The following is a copy of his will :

ROBERT PECK.

ROBERT PECK, the father of Joseph the ancestor, was also the son of Robert, as will be seen by the chart. He was of Beccles, Suffolk County; born in 1546 and died in 1593, aged forty-seven. The position which he occupied in society was that known in England as gentleman or gentry entitled to coat-armor, etc., and at that time, before the title of Baronet* was given, next to the nobility, or the title honored.

* This order was instituted by James I. in 1611.

From all the information I obtained in relation to the name there, it is evident that this branch was one of much distinction. Among all the coats of arms, charts and records which I obtained in relation to other branches, there were none apparently so ancient or upon which the Heralds had bestowed so much labor as upon those of this branch of our patronymic.

It was not customary in the early days of heraldry to give the collateral branches; only the lineage from father to son.

He married Hellen Babbs, daughter of Nicholas Babbs, of Guilford.

His children were Richard, who died without issue; Nicholas, who married Rachel, daughter of William Young; Robert, Rector at Hingham; Joseph, the Ancestor here; Margaret, Martha and Samuel.

He was a man of wealth, consisting of lands, houses, etc. His will was found at Ipswich after a tedious search. It was written with his own hand.

The following is a copy:

REV. ROBERT PECK.

REV. ROBERT PECK, the brother of Joseph the ancestor, was born at Beccles, Suffolk County, England, in 1580. He was graduated at Magdalen College, Cambridge; the degree of A. B. was conferred upon him in 1599, and that of A. M., in 1603. He was set apart to the ministry, and inducted over the church at Hingham, Norfolk County, England, January 8, 1605, where he remained until 1638, when he fled from the persecutions of the church to this country.

He was a talented and influential clergyman, a zealous preacher, and a nonconformist to the superstitious ceremonies and corruptions of the church, for which he was persecuted and driven from the country. Brooks, in his lives of the puritans, gives many facts of interest in relation to him. In particularizing some of the offences for which he and his followers were persecuted, he says, "for having catechised his family, and sung a psalm in his own house on a Lord's day evening, when some of his neighbors attended, his lordship (Bishop Harsnet) enjoined all who were present to do penance, requiring them to say, I confess my errors," etc.

Those who refused were immediately excommunicated, and required to pay heavy costs. This, Mr. Brooks says, appears from the bishop's manuscripts under his own hands. He says, "he was driven from his flock, deprived of his benefice, and forced to seek his bread in a foreign land."

Cotton Mather in speaking of him says, he was by the good providence of heaven fetched away into New England about the year 1638, when the good people of Hingham did rejoice in the light for a season; but within two or three years, the invitation of his friends of Hingham, England, persuaded him to return to them, where being though great in person for stature, yet greater for spirit, he was greatly serviceable for the good of the church.

He arrived here in 1638. In relation to his arrival, the town clerk at Hingham here says: "Mr. Robert Peck, preacher of the gospel in the Town of Hingham, in the County of Norfolk, old England, with his wife and two children, and two servants, came over the sea and settled in this town of Hingham, and he was a Teacher of the Church." Mr. Hobart, of Hingham, says in his diary, that he was ordained here teacher of the church, November 28, 1638. His name frequently appears upon the records of the town. He had lands granted him.

His family as seen upon the chart consisted of nine children. His son Joseph and daughter Anne came over with him. He was twice married. His first wife Anne, died at Hingham, England, and was buried there August 30, 1648. His second wife was Mrs. Martha Bacon, widow of James Bacon, Rector of Burgate.

He remained here until the long Parliament, or until the persecutions in England ceased, when he returned and resumed his Rectorship at Hingham.

Mr. Hobart says he returned October 27, 1641; and Mr. Cushing, the town clerk, says his wife and son Joseph returned with him; his daughter Anne remaining here. She married Captain John Mason, "the conqueror of the Pequots." *

He died at Hingham, England, and was buried in his churchyard there. His funeral sermon was preached by Nathaniel Joslin and published. †

His church (St. Andrews) at Hingham was a noble structure with a lofty tower, containing eight musical bells.

The following is a copy of his will:

July the xxiiijth 1651

PART FIRST.

THE DESCENDANTS OF JOSEPH PECK, JR., ELDEST SON OF JOSEPH THE ANCESTOR.

JOSEPH PECK, JR.,² was born in England, and baptized there, August 23, 1623, and came over with his father in 1638, being then about 15 years of age. He removed with the family from Hingham Mass., to Seekonk, in 1645. He settled near his father at what was then called Seacunk since known as Seekonk plain. His house was located near, if not upon the exact spot where now stands the depot of the Boston and Providence Railroad, where it crosses this plain.

His name frequently appears upon the records of the town. In 1655, he was one of a committee to levy a tax or rate for the maintenance of the minister. His name appears among those who drew lots in the north purchase at different times. In 1661, he was appointed to view the damage in the Indian's corn upon Kickemuet neck, and Consumpsit neck, and give the town notice of it. He was one of those who advanced money for the prosecution of King Philip's war.

About 1660, he left the plain, and settled upon Palmer's river in the southwesterly part of Rehoboth. * The remains of his old

* He deeds, July 15, 1665, to Thomas Cooper, his house, orchards, yards and home lot, containing twelve acres. Bounded on the south by the town common, on the west by land of said Cooper, on the north by a highway, and land he bought of Edward Gillman, adjoining upon the aforesaid land to the west of the common, south of the land of Peter Hunt; east and north by land which he had possessed for fifteen years. Likewise twenty-five pounds state of town common with all the rights and privileges appertaining to said common.

The said Cooper was to enter upon said lands at the next Michaelmas or as soon as the said Peck had gathered and carried away his corn.

cellar and well were still to be seen when I visited the place, which is about one mile northwest from the Orleans Factory so called, near the late residence of Mr. William Covel. He became the owner of a large amount of land, in addition to that given him by his father. Here he lived and died.

The following is a copy of his will :

In the name of God Amen, in the year of our Lord one thousand six hundred ninety & seven in the ninth year of his majesties reign the fifth day of the seventh month called July I Joseph Peck of the town of Rehoboth of the county of Bristol within his Maj^{ties} province of Massachusetts Bay in New England sen^r yeoman being now aged and weak of body & in expectation of my change yet through the mercy of God I am whole and sound in my memory and understanding and of a disposing mind do make this my last will & Testament for the disposing & settling the things of this world which the Lord has entrusted me to & among my children in manner & form as followeth And imprimis I bequeath my soul into the hands of our most blessed savior and dear redeemer & my body to the dust untill the resurrection day which I die in the firm belief & expectation of Item 1sly I give unto my daughter Patience wife of Richard Bowen & to her heirs forever twenty acres of land in the first division last agreed upon & twenty pounds

Item 2^dly I give unto my daughter Mary the wife of Benjamin Hunt & to her heirs forever half my lot in the north purchased lands belonging to Rehoboth purchase and twenty pounds

Item 3^dly I give unto my daughter Elizabeth wife of Capt Mason & to her heirs forever the other half of my lot in the aforesaid north purchase & twenty pounds

Item 4thly I give unto my daughter Hannah wife of Daniel Reed & to her heirs forever all my medow in the north purchase & twenty pounds And my mind & will is the abovesaid sums given to my daughters (each being named) be by my executor of this my last will & testament well & truly paid within the term of four years after my decease Furthermore my mind & will is that if all or any of my daughters shall happen to die before the time prefixed by me for my executors paying the several sums before expressed unto them — then my mind & will is that each daughters legacy that shall happen to die shall be sold & truly paid to her children by an equal distribution

Item 5thly I give unto my son Jathnall Peck as an addition to what I have before given unto him the lot upon which his dwelling house now stands containing twenty acres be it more or less which lot I had of William Carpenter of Rehoboth in exchange and also one parcel of land being a lot of twenty & six acres lying on the easterly side of Palmers River in Rehoboth near the oak swamp be the same more or less And also I give him my fresh meadow formerly purchased of William Bucklin late of Rehoboth and also six acres of upland, adjoining to the said meadow & also my upper meadow upon Palmers River and also the great piece of meadow that lieth in the meadow abutting upon the meadow of Joshua Smith on the one side & the meadow of Preserved Abell on the other side and also that part of my salt marsh lying on the southerly side of the creek bounded from a pine tree unto a little creek upon a straight line & also half my common rights in the town of Rehoboth and all my common in the north purchased lands yet undivided —All and each of these lands I give unto my said son Jethniel Peck & to his heirs forever. Item 6thly I give unto my son Samuel Peck & to his heirs forever my dwelling house barn and out houses & all my lands wheresoever & whatsoever which by deeds & grants their quantity & places being & bounds will appear which in this my last will & testament are not before by me given, with the residue of my common rights Item 7thly My mind & will is that after my debts and funeral charges be paid out of my movaball estate, that then the whole & residue thereof be equally divided amongst my children or those of their children that survive if any of them be dead before that time shall come Item 8thly I do by this my last will & testament make null & void & of none effect all other & former wills by me made

Finally I do nominate constitute appoint & ordain my son Samuel Peck my sole executor of this my last will & testament unto whom I commit all power for the execution & performance thereof & for the burrial of my body in decent & christian manner & for all other things requisite unto him as my executor and in testimony this above written is my true & last will & testament I the said Joseph Peck have hereunto set my hand & seal the day & year first above written

[4.] JATHNIEL PECK,³ son of JOSEPH,³ settled near his father. The house in which he lived, and to which his father refers in his will, stood upon the plain or flat, northerly, and not far from the late residence of Gideon Peck, of Rehoboth, deceased. He became a man of wealth and influence. He was a representative to the General Court in 1721, 2, 3, 6, 7, 8, 9, 30 and 31. He also took an active part in the affairs of the church. He was one of those instrumental in organizing and building up the one at Palmer's River. He and Captain Samuel Peck gave each one acre of land for the site of the house which stood upon the hill, northerly, and not far from what is now known as the Orleans Factory.* They were members of the church. Jathniel and his wife were buried here. Their tombstones, when I last visited the place, were in a good state of preservation.

The following are the inscriptions upon them :

He deeded his lands to his children. The deeds may be found upon the records at Taunton, Mass. He married Sarah Smith, February 28, 1688-9.

* This house was commenced in 1717, and completed about 1721. The church was organized in 1721, consisting at first of ten members. The house stood until about 1773.

Sarah married Ephraim Hunt, Nov. 8, 1822. (R. Rec., B. 1.) She left no issue. Mr. Hunt was a large landholder. He gave lands to the church in Rehoboth, for the better support of the ministry, which I am told they now hold.

Rebecca married Edward Martin, and settled in the eastern part of Seekonk. The farm was the one recently owned and occupied by Capt. Jonathan Bowers. Her descendants were men of distinction. Simeon Martin, of Newport, a Lieut.-Governor of Rhode Island, and Philip Martin, of Providence, were her grandchildren.

Ann married Caleb Ormsbee. John H. Ormsbee, late of Providence, for

* This method of double dating was adopted to represent the old, or Julian, and the new, or Gregorian style of computing time.

By the old calendar of Julius Cæsar, the year was made to consist of three hundred and sixty-five days, and six hours. These six hours, amounting to one whole day in every four years, were added to February, making those years to consist of three hundred and sixty-six days, called leap years.

This computation made the year about eleven minutes longer than the true solar time, which in every one hundred and thirty-one years amounted to one whole day. In consequence of this, the 21st day of March, which should have been when the sun crossed the equinoctial line at the vernal equinox, had fallen back, so to speak, from the time of the Council of Nice, in the year 325 of the Christian Era, to the time of Pope Gregory XIII., ten days. He therefore ordered that ten days should be left out of the year 1582 to make the 21st day of March fall on the time when the sun crossed the vernal equinox; and to prevent a like occurrence, ordered that three days should be abated in every four centuries.

Although most countries adopted the new style long before, Great Britain and her colonies did not fully do so until 1751, when Parliament ordered that the year 1752 should commence on the first of January, and that the difference between old and new style, which then amounted to eleven days, should be many years Agent of the Hartford Insurance Company, I am told, was one of her descendants.

The gravestone is highly ornate, featuring a large heart-shaped central panel. Above the heart is a shield with a cross and other symbols, topped by a helmet and crest. The entire monument is framed by intricate scrollwork and floral patterns. Four cherubs are depicted: one at the top center holding the shield, and three others (two on the sides and one at the bottom center) holding a banner. The base of the stone is decorated with a field of grass and small flowers.

[8.] SAMUEL³ PECK, son of JOSEPH,² settled upon his father's farm. He became a large landholder. He probably added to the homestead. He was entrusted with various offices in the town, and was a member of the church at Palmer's River. He died June 9, 1736, and was buried upon his own land. The graves of his family may be seen near the late residence of Mr. William Covel.

He died June the 9th, 1736, in the sixty-fourth year of his age.

She died November the 12th, 1756, in the eighty-first year of her age.

His will, dated May 1, 1736, is upon the Taunton Records, B. 8, p. 367.

He gives to his daughter Rachel, wife of Simon Dillis, the use of one room in his house at the south end of his farm, to dwell in during her natural life, and the keeping of a cow winter and summer, while she remains in said house, and also five pounds a year, annually, to be paid during her life, and his best bed and bedding, after the decease of his wife.

He also gives to her children four hundred pounds, to be equally divided amongst them when they become twenty-one years of age.

left out of the following month of September, or in other words, that the time should be set forward so much by calling the third day of that month the fourteenth.

For many years, during the change which was taking place in commencing the year, double dating was of frequent occurrence. By old style, the year commenced on the 25th of March. and by new style, on the first of January. These double dates, therefore, occur in the months of January, February, and to the 25th of March. By a moment's reflection it will be seen what was intended by them. Take, as an example, the above birth of Ichabod, which is recorded as occurring March 9, 1690, or 91. If old style was followed, and the year considered to commence on the 25th of March, he was born in 1690; but if new style was followed, and the year allowed to commence on the first of January, then the 9th of March would be in the year 1691, instead of 1690.

To change old style to new, previous to 1700, add ten days; between 1700 and 1800, add eleven days; and between 1800 and 1900, add twelve days.

The Russians still follow old style. To change their time to ours, add twelve days.

He gave to the children of his daughter Hannah, deceased, as follows: To her son Comfort, his heirs and assigns, all the houses, lands, and orchards, where his father, Nicholas Peck, then lived. To her daughter Elizabeth, one hundred pounds, and one bed and bedding, after the decease of his wife. Also to her daughter Hannah, and her heirs forever, one hundred pounds. Also to her daughter Margaret, and her heirs forever, one hundred pounds.

He gave to Rachel, his wife, one room in his house at the south end of his farm, a cow, and her keeping winter and summer, and all his indoor goods, and what more she might need, in sickness and health, during her natural life.

He gives to his son Abiezer, and his heirs forever, all his houses, lands, and orchards, with all his lands and meadows at the north end of his farm, and his salt meadow, near Miles bridge, and one hundred and twenty pounds of stock, which he had loaned to him, and twenty pounds which would be due, and a mare of three years old, and also one-half of his apparel and arms, and half of his land at Long Hill, and one-half his common rights in Rehoboth.

He gave to his son Samuel, and his heirs, his house and barn and orchard, on the south end of his farm, and all his lands adjoining to the dividing line, and half his lands at Long Hill, and all his meadows and lands in the ash swamp, joining to land of Nathan Bliss, and his land in the ox pasture; also his land on the north side of the way, and his land by Samuel Bullock's, and his land by Joseph Peck's land, and half his common right in Rehoboth, with all his lands and common rights in Attleborough; and if there should be any land forgotten in his will, it was to be divided equally between his two sons. If his wife did not dispose of what he had left for her use, it was to be equally divided between his four children. Abiezer was to be at the expense of supporting his mother, and was to pay the legacies to the children of Hannah. Samuel was to pay the legacies to his daughter Rachel and her children. He appoints Samuel his executor.

[9.] DANIEL⁴ PECK, son of JATHNIEL,³ settled in that part of the Rehoboth North Purchase which was afterwards Attleborough, and now Cumberland, R. I., at an early date. He purchased lands there in 1715 and 18 (Taunton Records, B. 17, pp. 18 and 129), consisting of uplands, swamps and meadows, being in different allotments (Attleborough Proprietors' Records, pp. 49, 99 and 157). These, with the lands laid out to him upon his rights in the common land, made him an extensive landholder. His lands were bounded west by the Blackstone, or Pawtucket River, and extended so far east as to include what was afterwards known in the town as the Amesbury farm, being a part of the lands given in his will to his daughter Anna, adjoining those given to Sarah. His residence was upon that part of his lands afterwards long known in the vicinity as the Sessions farm. His lands here included several of the farms now in that vicinity. About three hundred acres descended to his grandson, Col. George Peck.

He was the town treasurer of Attleborough in 1724, and the town clerk of Cumberland after it was set off to Rhode Island. He held the office at the time of his decease.

His will is upon the Records of Cumberland, B. 1, pp. 46, 47 and 48.

The following is a copy :

In the name of God Amen, the sixth day of August one thousand seven hundred and forty eight ; I Daniel Peck of Cumberland in the County of Providence, in the Colony of Rhode Island, in Providence Plantations in New England Yeoman ; being weak in body but of perfect mind and memory thanks be given to Almighty God therefor ; — therefore, calling to mind the mortality of my body, and knowing it is appointed for all men once to die, do make and ordain this my last will and Testament, that is to say, principally and first of all, I give and recommend my soul into the hands of God that gave it, and my body to the earth, to be buried in a decent christian burrial, at the discretion of my Executrix, nothing doubting but at the General Resurrection, I shall receive the same again by the mighty power of God — and touching such worldly estates wherewith it hath pleased God to bless me in this life, I give, demise and dispose of the same in the following manner and form.

Imprimus, I give and bequeath to my well beloved son Daniel Peck, his heirs and assigns forever, all that part of my homestead which I have already given him a deed of gift of, and, as it is expressed in said deed ; likewise I give unto my son Daniel his heirs and assigns forever, that right of land I purchased of James Wheeler Jun^r, lying near fort Dummer in a place called Gallops Town, with all the privileges and appurtenances belonging to it, and likewise one whole right or share of common, in the purchase, called Rehoboth North Purchase and likewise I give unto my said son Daniel, his heirs and assigns forever ; (but after my wife Sarahs decease) that part of my homestead on the West side of mendon road, and on the East side of Pawtucket River, and also that part that lyeth between Stephen Brown's homestead and that which I gave to my said son Daniel in the deed above said, with all the priveleges and appurtenances belonging to it

Item. I give to my well beloved daughter Sarah, the wife of John Whipple, to her, and to her heirs and assigns forever ; the whole of that tract of land lying upon Sneheteconet brook lying on the east side of mendon road, and between the land of Lieut Joseph Brown and Stephen Brown, containing several small allotments as may fully appear by the records of Attleborough land, alias Rehoboth north purchase lands ; reference there to, being had ; Likewise one quarter of a whole share of common in said Rehoboth North purchase, with all the priveleges and appurtenances belonging to both bequestments

Item. I give to my well beloved daughter Anne, the wife of Gideon Bishop, to her, and to her heirs and assigns forever : all that part of the situation, said Gideon Bishop liveth upon, which I have already given to my said daughter Anne a deed of gift of, as it is expressed in said deed of gift, with all the priveleges and appurtenances thereunto belonging ; likewise, one quarter of a whole share in the common in the north purchase.

Item. I give to my grand daughter Molly Chapman, when she shall arrive at the age of eighteen years old, to her and to her heirs and assigns forever, that tract of land lying on the west side of Gideon Bishops homestead, containing by estimation, eighteen acres, be the same more or less, in two allotments, and as the same are bounded in the records of the Rehoboth North purchase land ; likewise, that piece of land Thomas Alexander liveth upon, when said Thomas and his wife are dead.

Item. I give unto my grand children, that is to say, the children of my daughter Anne and Sarah, forever, in equal shares, to them and to their heirs and assigns for ever, my other right or share in the before mentioned Gallop's Town, with all the priveleges and appurtenances to the same.

Item. My mind and will is, that my son Daniel's right or share in said Gallop's Town, be that which said James Wheeler Jr purchased of said James's father, to wit, Mr James Wheeler ; and likewise, my dwelling after my wifes decease, to be to his heirs and assigns for ever.

Item. I give to my dearly beloved wife Sarah, the improvments of the whole of my homstead during her natural life ; likewise, I give to my said wife, all my movable estate within doors, and without, with all credits, to enable her to pay my Just debts ; likewise I give to my wife Sarah and for her heirs and assigns for ever a certain piece of land partly improved and partly unimproved lying on the East side of Mendon road and South of that which I give to my said son Daniel by deed as above is said ; likewise my mind and will is that my movable Estate above mentioned is my wife's, to dispose of as she pleases forever likewise I constitute make and ordain my said wife Sarah my sole Executrix of this my last will and testament and I do hereby utterly disallow revoke and annull all and every other form testaments wills legacies and bequests and Executors by me in any ways before named willed and bequeathed ratifying and confirming this and no other to be my last will and testament in witness where of I have here unto set my hand and seal the day and year above written

Signed sealed published pronounced and declared by the said Daniel Peck as his last will and testament

[10.] ICHABOD PECK,⁴ son of JATHNIEL,³ settled in that part of Attleborough now Cumberland. He purchased lands there as early as October 23, 1721. He purchased of John Sweetland lands, with house, etc., lying at the north end of Red Earth Hill, on each side of the road to Diamond Hill. It appears from the records at Taunton, and the Proprietors' Records, of Attleborough, that he was the owner of large tracts of land, laid out to him upon his own, and upon the rights of his father and grandfather, in the common lands.

Ichabod Peck

He held different offices, at various times, in Attleborough and in Cumberland. His house was situated near the late residence of John Newell, Esq., upon the opposite side of the road.

I am told by those who remember to have seen it, that it was two stories in height, and large for those days. His old well, now upon the roadside, is still kept in repair, and noted for the purity of its water.

He married Judith Paine,* daughter of Samuel Paine. She died November 26, 1778. He July 8, 1773. His son Benjamin was administrator upon his estate (Cumberland Probate Records, Book 5, pp. 97 and 350).

[14.] EBENEZER⁴ PECK, son of JATHNIEL,³ settled in the northeasterly part of Rehoboth, near Great Meadow Hill, so called, upon a branch or tributary of Palmer's River, where he established a forge, at which he and his sons did an extensive business for many years. Connected with it was also a saw-mill and grist-mill. The place is still known as the forge privilege; little business is however now done there.*

Ebenezer was a man of much distinction. His descendants were numerous. His sons settled near him, mostly in the vicinity of the forge. They owned a large tract of land, at least, it is said, one mile square. The place was long known as the Peck neighborhood.

The will of Ebenezer is upon the Records at Taunton, dated August 6, 1760 (B. 17, p. 94).

He gives to his wife Margaret, his Negro man, named Toney; & all his indoor and out door movables, including cattle, Sheep and swine; with the improvment of his real estate, during her natural life. He divides his lands among his 4 sons, Jathniel, Shubael, Ebenezer and Philip; including his interest in the saw Mill &c; they paying legacies to his daughters, Margaret, wife of James Short, and Sarah, Mary, and Susa.

He married Margaret Whitaker, August 12, 1724 (R. Rec., B. 2).

* When I visited the place, in 1862, it was nearly deserted. The water power, like that upon other small streams, when the lands become cleared, had failed. The remains of the saw-mill and grist-mill were there, but the house of Ebenezer was gone, and in place of the forge was a small building containing cotton machinery.

| 56. Aaron, b. Dec. 7, 1733. | |

Joseph, I am told, resided for some time in Rehoboth, upon the Lane farm, so called, in that vicinity; and from there removed and settled upon the Connecticut River, in the vicinity of Springfield, where he is supposed to have left descendants. I have been unable to find them.

Aaron resided with his brother Joseph while in Rehoboth. He is supposed to have afterwards settled in Richmond, N. H., and to have married, at an advanced age, a widow, Chloe Gurnsey, Sept. 16, 1798. He died about 1805, leaving no issue. A daughter of this widow was the wife of Calvin Peck (No. 186), son of Daniel. By the records at Keene, N. H., it appears that Aaron purchased lands in Richmond, in 1794.

[19.] BENJAMIN⁴ PECK, son of JATHNIEL,³ settled in the southwest part of Attleborough, in that part now Cumberland.*

* It will be seen that the three brothers, Daniel, Ichabod and Benjamin, left Rehoboth at an early date, and settled in Attleborough, at nearly an equal distance from each other, and about three miles apart, doubtless thinking themselves, at that time, quite near neighbors.

A part of the house which he is supposed to have built, and in which his son Solomon afterwards resided, was standing in 1852. It has since been taken down.

The cellar walls were still standing when I last visited the place. The location is about two miles northeast from Lonsdale Village, near the late residence of John Follett, Esq. Here Benjamin lived and died, August 10, 1749. His will is upon the Cumberland Records, B. 3, p. 22.

He gives to his son Solomon, sixty acres of land, to be set off from the south part of his farm. He gives to his wife Elizabeth, all the rest of his lands, buildings, houses, debts due him, and movable effects. He gives to his daughters Bebee and Anne Peck, five hundred pounds each. He makes his wife his executrix.

He was twice married: first, to Elizabeth Whitaker, February 13, 1728-9; second, to Elizabeth ———. His first wife died April 15, 1731; his second, September 4, 1756.

[21.] HENRY⁴ PECK, son of JATHNIEL,³ lived and died in Rehoboth, near what is now known as the Village, and I am told, upon the farm occupied in 1863 by Mrs. Hannah Allen, widow.

He married Rachel Whitaker, March 26, 1732 (R. Rec., B. 2). She died at the residence of her son Solomon, in Royalston, Mass., aged ninety-three years.

Lydia married Samuel Turner, grandson of Rev. David Turner, and settled in Royalston, Mass.

[22.] NATHANIEL⁴ PECK, son of JATHNIEL,³ settled in Rehoboth, it is supposed near his father, upon the homestead or a part of it. I learn but little in relation to him. He died about 1762. Sylvanus Martin was appointed administrator upon his estate, August 3, 1762 (Taunton Records, B. 17, p. 624). The inventory names twenty acres of land and buildings. In 1777 a guardian was appointed over Mercy Peck, widow of Nathaniel, and daughter Rebecca.

76. Rebecca, and it is supposed others.

[27.] REV. SAMUEL⁴ PECK, son of SAMUEL,³ resided upon a part of the homestead. He was a baptist clergyman, denominated at that time one of the new lights. The house in which he preached was located in that part of Rehoboth since Seekonk, near the late residence of Joshua Smith. It was taken down in 1815. He is said to have been a zealous preacher, much attached to his religious tenets. He married Hannah Allen.

The following is from their tombstones:

Benjamin, I am told, settled, lived and died in Virginia, where he became wealthy, leaving descendants. I have been unable to find them. He is supposed to have deeded his estates in Providence, August 18, 1784 (P. Rec., B. 21, p. 131).

[28.] ABIEZER⁴ PECK, son of SAMUEL,³ resided upon a part of the homestead. He was twice married. First, I am told, to Submit Sawyer; second, to Naomi Allen, sister to the wife of Rev. Samuel Peck. His first wife died October 20, 1740. He died September 20, 1800. His second wife died July 2, 1801.

[31.] DANIEL⁵ PECK, son of DANIEL,⁴ settled near his father. He died at an early age, a few days previous to the decease of his father. His will is upon the Cumberland Records, dated October 10, 1750.

He appoints his wife Hopestill his executrix. He gives her all his household goods; also his mare, and one cow, and the benefit and improvement of his farm until his son George should become of age. If she remained his widow until his son became of age, then she was to have her living out of his estate so long as she remained his widow, and no longer. He gave to his son George all his lands and buildings in Cumberland, and one-half of a share of a whole right of common in Attleborough; and to his daughter Sarah three hundred pounds, to be paid her by his son George, when twenty-one years of age.

He married Hopestill Dexter. He died October 11, 1750.*

[38.] SOLOMON⁵ PECK, son of ICHABOD,⁴ settled, lived and died in the southwesterly part of Wrentham, Mass., where his son Royal, and his grandson, Joel F. Peck, have since lived and died, and where his great-grandson Royal now resides.

He is represented by those who knew him to have been a man of distinction,—a wealthy, industrious, and thrifty farmer. He married Mercy Foster, daughter of Ebenezer Foster, of Cumberland, R. I., June 14, 1756. She was born May 22, 1734.

From their tombstones:

In memory of Mr Soloman Peck who died Dec^r 31st 1802 in y^e 70th year of his Age

[300.] WILLIAM⁷ PECK, son of ROYAL⁶, settled at first in Wrentham, Mass., where he resided for many years, and from there removed to Franklin, Mass. He has been what may well be called a model farmer,—industrious and successful,—a man of excellent judgment and fine natural ability.

Although he has kept aloof from party politics, neither seeking or accepting office, he has usually taken an interest in the affairs of his town, giving his advice or expressing his views upon matters of interest; and at public meetings few have been able to command more respect. In his younger days, he was fond of military tactics, and for a long time commanded a military company. He was often urged to accept higher positions; but he chose to remain a captain. He was an excellent disciplinarian, and took much pride, as well as his men, in their being known as one of the best drilled companies. He is still known, and called among his early associates, by the to them familiar name of Capt. Peck; although in his 84th year, he still retains his faculties.

He married Sarah Arnold, daughter of Rufus Arnold. She died March 24, 1852.

Mary Ann married Fennah Grant, of Cumberland, R. I.

Naomi married Richard Crowninshield, also of Cumberland.

Ann Janett married Albert Ballou, of Franklin, Mass.

Sarah Maria married Abijah Rockwood, also of Franklin, Mass.

Abigail is a school teacher, and is unmarried.

Rufus Arnold married Abby S. Thurber, and settled in Providence, R. I. His children are (821): Anna A.,⁹ (822), Horace G.,⁹ (823), and *Helen A.*⁹

William Edward prepared himself for a profession, and chose that of a lawyer. He entered the office of Richard W. Green, of Providence, R. I., late judge of the Supreme Court, as a student, in 1847. He was admitted to the bar in 1850, and settled in Providence, where he entered into practice. He was elected a Representative from the city to the State Legislature, in 1852. He was also one of the judges of the Court of Magistrates. In 1855, he removed with his family to Greenwich, R. I., but continued his office in Providence. He was elected a Senator from Greenwich in 1857. He continued his practice, both in Providence and Greenwich, until the war, in which he took a deep interest. His patriotism did not allow him to remain neutral, or a spectator to the noble effort the State made to assist in subduing the rebellion.

He not only lent his aid and influence in raising soldiers, but set the example of being one himself. He loved his country, and knew too well how to prize its government and laws to remain passive during her struggle. He gave his life in their defence. He enlisted in the Rhode Island cavalry, where he received a commission as first lieutenant.

After joining his regiment in Louisiana, he was appointed judge advocate, which position he held until his decease, which occurred at Napoleonville, August 13, 1865. He was taken sick at Thibodeaux while attending the duties of his office. He remained there until the adjournment of the commission, when he returned to Napoleonville; was seized with a congestive chill, and died in about two hours.

He was buried with military honors. His body was placed in a metallic coffin, and then enclosed in a brick vault.

The following is the inscription from the tombstone of her great-great-grandmother:

"In memory of Mrs. Desire Allen, Relict of Mr. John Allen (formerly the wife of Mr. Ebenezer Foster), who died November 27, 1810, aged 100 years 1 month and 28 days.

'Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord, for they rest from their labors and their works do follow them.'

Her name before marriage was Desire Cushman. She married Ebenezer Foster, September 17, 1730. Their daughter, Mercy Foster, married Solomon Peck, the great-grandfather of Mary Ann.

PART SECOND.

THE DESCENDANTS OF JOHN² PECK,

SECOND SON OF JOSEPH¹ THE ANCESTOR.

JOHN PECK was born in England, and came over to this country with his father, in 1638, being then about eleven years of age. He moved with the family from Hingham, Mass., to Seekonk, in 1645. He settled in the southeast part of Seekonk, near what is now known as Luther's Corners. He was accepted as a freeman of the town in 1658, and drew his proportion in the meadows on the north side of the town. He was chosen one of the townsmen in 1680, and representative to the General Court of Massachusetts in 1700. He died in 1713. The inventory of his property was presented to the court, October 1713. His will is recorded upon the Records at Taunton, Mass., B. 3, p. 163.

The following is a copy :

In the name of God Amen. In the year one thousand seven hundred and eight, in the seventh year of her Majesties Reign, on y^e twenty six day of May ; I John Peck of Rehoboth in the county of Bristol in her Majesties Provinces of the Massachusetts Bay in New England ; Being aged & weak of body, & in expectation of my change, yet through the mircy of God I am whole & sound in my memory & understanding, & of a disposing mind ; do make this my last will & testament, for the disposing & settleing the things of this world wth which the Lord hath intrusted me, to & amongst my wife and children in manner and form as followeth.

And Imprimis. I bequeath my soul into the hands of my blessed Savior and Deer Redeemer, & my body to the Dust, to be decently buried by my executor here in after named.

Item I give and bequeath to my daughter Esther Wilmarth, in addition to what her grand father gave her, w^{ch} was my proper Estate ; all that my lot of land in the Easterly side of y^e grand division, to her, & her heirs and assigns for ever.

Item I give and bequeath to my daughter Dorothy Glover, & her husband Edward Glover, my house lot and all my buildings there on, provided ; he pay over to my executor here in after named, ten pounds money & the barn there on or, as many boards & nails as will build such a barn, and ten acres of undivided lands in Rehoboth already drawn for ; being part of my first alotment ; & one bed after my wive's decease, and fifteen pounds of commonage in said Rehoboth ; to be, and remain to them & their heirs & assigns forever.

Item I give and bequeath to my daughter Anne Peck, thirty acres of land, lying on the easterly side of the white Oak hill, near Samuel Fullers. — likewise, fifteen pounds estate of commonage in Rehoboth, & one acre of salt marsh, and a cow or the value there of, at her marriage ; to be and remain to her, and to her heirs & assigns for ever.

Item I give and bequeath to my daughter Abigail Peck, fifty three acres of land, lying adjoining to seargent John Wilmarths house lot near Palmers River ; and one acre of salt marsh &, fifteen pounds estate of commonage, in Rehoboth ; and a bed after my wive's decease ; to her, & her heirs and assigns for ever.

Item I give and bequeath unto my son Nathan Peck, all the rest and residue of my lands and meadows, with their quantitis & qualities, both undivided and divided, in Rehoboth and Attleborough or where soever, & one yoke of oxen, with my yokes, carts, ploughs, chains & tools ; and the bed on which I lodge, with the furniture, after my wifes decease, hereby obliging him to take care, maintain & provide for my wife Rebecca Peck, in sickness and in health, for and during her natural life, with honorable full maintainance. I do hereby make my son Nathan Peck, my sole executor, of this, my last will and testament ; hereby revoking all other wills by me heretofore made.

In testimony whereof, I have here unto set my hand and seal, this day & year, first above written.

Signed sealed and published in the presence of us witnesses

JOHN BUTTERWORTH
SAMUEL COOPER
DANIEL SMITH

JOHN PECK

It appears from the records of Rehoboth, and from his will, that he was three times married. The records (book first) say, " Elizabeth his wife was burried December 9, 1667"; and also afterwards, that "Elizabeth his wife was burried April 21, 1687"; and in his will he makes provision for his wife Rebecca.

Patience married Enos Walker.

Elizabeth married — Arnold; was deceased at the time of the division of her father's estate, leaving a son, Daniel,⁵ and daughter, *Elizabeth*⁵ Arnold.

[1396.] NATHAN⁴ PECK, son of NATHAN,³ resided upon the homestead. The house was a short distance south from Luther's Corners, now so called, upon the east side of the old Bristol and Boston road. It was taken down many years since, by Joseph West, into whose possession it came from his wife, the daughter of Nathan. Its location was pointed out to me by his son, from whom I obtained my information. The remains of the old cellar were to be seen when I visited the place. Nathan was twice married:

first, to Martha Carpenter, May 11, 1749; second, to Rhoda Luther, of Swansea.

His will is upon record at Taunton, B. 33, p. 500, dated June 13, 1793.

He gives his wife Rhoda her dower in his estate, the improvement of his new dwelling-house, barn, and fifteen acres of land. He divides his property among his children: Martha, Susannah Weaver, the wife of James Weaver, Dorothy, Ann Emerson, wife of Ephraim Emerson, and Patience West, the wife of Joseph West, whom he makes the executor of his will.

THIRD SON OF JOSEPH¹ THE ANCESTOR.

NICHOLAS PECK was born in England, and baptized there, April 9, 1630, and came over to this country with his father, in 1638, being then about eight years of age. He removed with the family from Hingham, Mass., to Seekonk, since known as Seekonk Plain, in 1645.

After his marriage, Nicholas settled in the southeastern part of Seekonk, near the place now known in that vicinity as Major Monroe's, where he lived and died.

From the records, it appears that he took an active part in public affairs. He was frequently one of the raters (assessors) and selectmen of the town. He was elected Deputy to the Court at Plymouth, in 1669. He was also elected Deputy for each successive year, from 1677 to 1690, except in the years 1687 and 1688, when the town elected no deputies. From 1677 to 1684, he is called Ensign Nicholas Peck; after that, Lieutenant, and then Captain.

He died May 27, 1710. His will may be found recorded at Taunton, Mass., B. 3, p. 3.

The following is a copy :

SAMUEL PECK

JOHN BUTTERWORTH

NICHOLAS PECK

DANIEL SMITH

His inventory was presented to the judge October 25, 1710.

Nicholas was twice married. His first wife, Mary, died November 6, 1657. His second wife, Rebecah, died November 2, 1704 (Rehoboth Rec., B. 1).

His first wife was Mary Winchester, eldest daughter of Alexander Winchester (Plymouth Colony Rec., vol. 3, p. 120). The name of his second wife is unknown.

John Butterworth was appointed guardian for Margaret, and Peter Hunt, for Lydia, February 1722. Joseph and Nicholas were appointed administrators. The inventory was presented to the court, October 8, 1720.

[1498.] HEZEKIAH³ PECK, son of NICHOLAS,² at first settled near his father. He sold his lands here to Ephraim May, July 16, 1705. After this he resided for some time in Swansey, and then removed to Attleborough, Mass., and settled where his son, his grandson, and his great-grandson have since lived and died.

The farm is now owned by Mr. Capron Peck, his great-great-grandson, having now been in the name more than one hundred and fifty years. Its location is about one-half mile northwest from the depot of the Boston and Providence Railroad, as it passes through the town. He married Deborah Cooper. They were buried near his residence, the place afterwards becoming the family burial ground.

The following are the inscriptions upon their tombstones.

Hannah, it is supposed, married John Sweet, January 22, 1718-19 (A. Rec., B. 2, p. 46).

Rachel, it is supposed, married Benjamin Freeman, July 3, 1718 (A. Rec., B. 2, p. 60).

* Probably born in Swansey, and for that reason not recorded with the rest of the family in Rehoboth and Attleborough. That he was one of the family, may be seen upon the Taunton Records, B. 20, p. 281, and B. 6, p. 384. His tombstone may be found in the family burying ground.

† The orthography of these two last names is different as they occur in various places upon record.

Patronella married Ebenezer Blake, December 11, 1729 (A. Rec., B. 2, p. 88).

Perthenia married Jonathan Willard, October 29, 1734 (A. Rec., B. 2, p. 113).

Hezekiah was appointed guardian for Paternelle and Parthenia, June 25, 1725 (T. Rec., B. 5, p. 106).

[1500.] JONATHAN³ PECK, son of NICHOLAS,² settled upon what has since been known as Peck's Hill, a rise of ground on the present road from Bristol to Warren, R. I., and about two miles from the former place. He became possessed of large tracts of land, extending, as I am told, from the summit of the hill southwardly, including what has since become the estate of William D. Wolf; and from Peck's Rock, across the Neck, so called, to Little's Narrows, a tract of superior land, and beautifully situated. This land has now mostly been disposed of by his descendants, and comprises valuable farms. The homestead, however, remained in the name until about 1838. The old house has recently been taken down.

He married Elizabeth Throop. She presented the inventory of his estate to the Judge of Probate, July 3, 1717 (T. Rec., B. 3, p. 160).

This family mostly died young. The four last children were born in Attleborough.

[1505.] JOSEPH⁴ PECK, son of JOSEPH,³ resided in the southeasterly part of Rehoboth. He was twice married: first, to Rebecca Brown, daughter of Jabez Brown; second, to Hannah —. He died January 6, 1741-2. Hannah, his widow, was appointed administratrix upon his estate, April 20, 1742, and guardian for his daughter Mary, March 20, 1743-4 (T. Rec., B. 10, p. 407). A guardian was appointed for Jerusha and Winchester, they being above the age of fourteen years, May 1742 (T. Rec., B. 10, p. 155). A division of the estate between the widow and children was made October 1745 (T. Rec., B. 11, p. 65).

* She deeded her interest in the common lands in Attleborough, to Hezekiah Peck. The deed is now in the possession of Capron Peck, the great-grandchild of Hezekiah, dated the nineteenth day of May, in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and thirty-one, and in the fourth year of the reign of our Sovereign Lord George the 2d, by the grace of God King of Great Britain, France and Ireland, Defender of the faith, etc.

Hannah married Jonathan Fales, of Bristol.

Deborah married Samuel Gray, October 25, 1750.

Elizabeth married Samuel Bosworth.

Sarah married Simon Martindale.

Lydia married Nathaniel Peckham and Nathaniel Pierce.

Mary married Benjamin Simons.

[1522.] WILLIAM⁴ PECK, son of JONATHAN,³ settled in New Haven, Conn., where he remained for some time. He returned to Bristol, R. I., and from there removed to Dighton, Mass. I learn but little in relation to him. By the records, he appears to have been three times married: first, to Elizabeth Throop, who died April 18, 1731; second, to Elizabeth ———, who died November 12, 1740; third, to Rebecca Talbott.

Anna married Manassah Short, of Rehoboth, Mass., where they lived and died. Her children were: Manasseh, Jr.,⁷ Anna,⁷ Josiah,⁷ Rhoda,⁷ Hezekiah P.,⁷ and Philip.⁷

[1558.] JOSEPH⁵ PECK, son of HEZEKIAH,⁴ left Attleborough at an early date, and resided for some time in the western part of Massachusetts. I have been unable to find him or his descendants. He moved, I am told, into the State of New York. He married Elizabeth Read, daughter of Deacon Read.

CHILD — SIXTH GENERATION:

1619. Esther, b. July 10, 1776, in Attleborough.

He probably had other children after he left Attleborough.

[1562.] JOHN⁵ PECK, son of JOHN,⁴ at first resided in Attleborough, Mass. He afterwards settled at Pawtucket, R. I., where he owned a forge, and from there removed to New Brunswick, and settled at Shepody, now Hopewell, Albert County, where he remained for several years. He afterwards returned to Attleborough. He was twice married: first, to Hannah Walker, of Seekonk, Mass.; second, to a widow Paddlefoot; and resided near Taunton, where he died, May 19, 1807. His first wife died October 2, 1804.

Hannah married William Cole, of Seekonk, Mass., and settled in Sterling, Conn.

Chloe married Simeon Goff, of Seekonk, Mass., and settled in Surry, Mass.

Polly married Andrew Davison, of New Brunswick; from there they removed to Attleborough, Mass. She died at Bethany, aged 74 years. To the kindness of her son, John K. Davison,⁷ of Aldenville, Pa., I am indebted for my information in relation to the family.

[1565.] ABIEL⁵ PECK, son of JOHN,⁴ married Ruth Skinner, of Attleborough, Mass. He left Attleborough at an early date, and settled at Cumberland, Nova Scotia. After residing there for some time, he removed to Shepody, now Hopewell, Albert County, New Brunswick, where he obtained a large and extensive grant of land from the government, said to have been about six thousand acres. This land was much of it marsh land, or alluvial soil, overflowed periodically by the spring or high tides. It is now reclaimed and improved, and is the best and most productive agricultural part of that country, some of it still remaining in the possession of his descendants, who are wealthy farmers.

Upon the northern bank of the Shepody River, on a kind of promontory that juts out and forms a bend of the river (from which the prospect is very picturesque and beautiful), is the old family or private burial ground. On one of the tombstones is the following inscription :

Here lies interred the body of Abiel Peck, a native of Boston,* and one of the first settlers of this place, who, on the 16th day of December, 1802, unfortunately perished in a boat, in the 73d year of his age, leaving upwards of threescore descendants to lament his melancholy fate.

During his life the country was comparatively a wilderness, with no roads or means of communicating with the different settlements

* The father of Abiel died in Attleborough about three months before Abiel was born. The widow may have removed to Boston. She afterwards married a Jones.

upon the shores except by water, in boats. It was upon one of these occasions, while attempting to cross the Bay from Cumberland to his own place in an open boat, at that inclement season of the year, that he lost his life. He is represented to have been a man of large stature, great physical strength, and much energy of character.

The first six children were born in Attleborough, Mass.

Rachel was twice married. For her first husband she married Thomas Calhoun, by whom she had two sons. George Calhoun,⁷ Esq., Register of Deeds and Wills, and Judge of the Court of Common Pleas for the County of Albert is a grandson. For her second husband she married Robert Dickson, by whom she had two sons and eight daughters. She died November 5, 1803.

Rebecca married Oliver Stiles, by whom she had five sons and three daughters. Reuben Stiles, Esq.,⁷ for many years a member of the Provincial Parliament of New Brunswick, is a grandson. She died in 1850, in Hopewell, Albert County.

Ruth died unmarried, aged about 20 years.

Lois married Joel Edgett, by whom she had sons and daughters. She died in 1826.

Rhoda married John Edgett, by whom she had sons and daughters. She died in 1857.

Nancy married Nicholas Pearson, by whom she had sons and daughters. She died in Hopewell, Albert County.

[1568.] JONATHAN⁵ PECK, son of JONATHAN,⁴ resided upon the homestead. He was an active and industrious farmer. He accumulated a large landed interest in addition to that left him by his father. He married Mary Throop, of Bristol, R. I., June 2, 1757 (B. Rec., B. 2, p. 70 and 81). He died October 7, 1797. She November 6, 1803, aged 66 years.

Candice married Capt. Richard Pierce, and settled in Sudbury, Vt.

Ruth married Amos Wright, of Warren, R. I.

[1583.] PELEG⁵ PECK, son of THOMAS,⁴ resided in Swansey, where he was one of the leading men of the town. He early took an active interest in military affairs. He held a commission under the Colonial Government, issued by Thomas Hutchinson, Esq., "Captain General and Governor in Chief in and over His Majesties Provinces of Massachusetts Bay, and vice Admiral of the same, dated September 4th in the 12 year of the Reign of his Majestie King George the third. Annoque Domini 1772."

This commission was in the possession of his son, Deacon Benjamin Peck, of Rehoboth, Mass., in 1863.

After the commencement of the Revolutionary War, he was a zealous patriot, acting as agent in raising soldiers, etc. He held a Captain's commission of one of the military companies of Swansey.

The following is a copy which I was permitted to make of one of his orders:

SWANSEY, July 8, 1778.

To the Sergeants and Corporals of the 2d Foot Company in Swansey:

You are hereby required forthwith to examine the arms and other equipments of both the training band and alarm list within your district, and if there be any delinquents, you are to return their names to me, that they may be returned to General Sullivan, agreeable to express orders from him bearing date the 7th inst. Here of faille not and make return of this with your doings, as you will answer it at your peril.

Peleg Peck Capt

He entered the army, where he is said to have been an active and brave officer. He was twice married: first, to Phebe Mason, daughter of Hezekiah Mason, of Swansey; second, to Mary Thornton, widow of Stephen Thornton, formerly Mary Salsbury, daughter of Martin Salsbury, of Cranston, R. I. His first wife died July 23, 1778. He died June 1807. His second wife died April 11, 1841.

Mary Richmond married Philip M. Topham. Robert C.^a and William^a Topham, of New Bedford, are her sons.

Eliza Ann was residing in Bristol in 1863, unmarried.

Martha Vial married Nathaniel Fales, and was residing in Bristol in 1863.

The first six children in this family were those of the first wife, four of whom with their mother died with the yellow fever.

The tombstones of these children may be found at Bristol. They have been removed from the ancient burying-ground (now converted into a common) to the grounds adjoining.* Near the tombstones of these children, when I visited the place, lay upon the ground that of the mother, once a fine stone, then apparently uncared for. That of the father had been removed to the North burying-ground. The following is the inscription from that of the mother :

In memory of Mrs. Joanna the amiable Consort of Samuel Vial Peck who departed this life Nov. 16-1796 in the 37th year of her age.

[1651.] NATHANIEL^b PECK, son of THOMAS,⁵ left Bristol, R. I., about 1793, and settled in Amenia, Dutchess County, N. Y., where he resided for many years. He removed to Chenango County, and afterwards to La Salle, Michigan, where he died, September 20, 1836. He married Mary Wilson, daughter of John Wilson, of Taunton, Mass. She died May 27, 1856, aged 86.

* Upon the stones of these children, or upon that of the mother, is a singular error. Upon the stone of the mother the name is Joanna. Upon that of the children she is called Hannah.

[1655.] WILLIAM B.⁶ PECK, son of LORING,⁵ married Elizabeth Keese, daughter of Samuel Keese, of Keeseville, N. Y., January 22, 1811, and settled at Lake Pleasant, Hamilton County, N. Y.

I am told that he was early possessed of much physical ability, energy and decision of character, which fitted him for the active life he afterwards lived. He held various public offices during his life, both civil and military. In 1812, '13, '14 and '15, he held a commission, and was in service upon the frontier or Canada line.

He was supervisor of his town and Justice of the Peace for many years, and in 1822 was appointed one of the judges of his county, which office he held during his residence there.

In 1826, he removed to Stuyvesant Landing, upon the Hudson River, and engaged in the commission freighting and grain business. From here he removed to Chonnahon, Will County, Ill., where he was again intrusted with various public offices. In 1837, he was appointed by the President Indian Agent to settle claims; and in 1840, Assistant United States Marshal. He held minor public offices, as Justice of the Peace, Post Master, etc., until the close of his life.

In speaking of his private life, his son, Samuel K., to whom I am indebted for my information, says: "My father will be long remembered as one of the most pleasing companions, and the most charitable and beneficent of men."

He was accustomed to take an active part in political matters, and was a pleasing and popular public speaker.

He died June 22, 1849. His wife in 1845.

[1659.] DR. GEORGE⁶ PECK, son of Col. LORING,⁵ married Elizabeth Dunning, of Lake Pleasant, Hamilton County, N. Y., where he resided until about 1817, when he removed to Western New York. He resided for some time at Monroe. From there he removed to Niagara, where he remained for several years. He was educated for a profession, and chose that of medicine and surgery, which he afterwards practised. He was surgeon in the war of 1812. He was also a surveyor and engineer, in the practice of which he sometimes engaged.

In 1836, he removed to the West, and settled in Iowa, upon the west bank of the Mississippi River, where he afterwards laid out and founded the city of Camanche. He remained here until his decease.

His son, Franklin K., to whom I am indebted for my information, in speaking of his decease, says: "He now lies buried near the city, in a place of his own selection. Upon his tombstone is the following inscription:

Doct George Peck founder of Camanche died Oct 13, 1838 Aged 51 years

[1680.] THOMAS⁶ PECK, son of PELEG,⁵ settled in Swansey, Mass. The following was communicated by his son, at my request, to whose kindness and generosity I am also indebted for the likeness of himself and of his father:

Thomas Peck, son of Peleg, was born in Swansey, Mass., February 12, 1767. He was brought up, and at his majority commenced life a farmer. His father and eldest brother held commissions in the war of the Revolution, and my father experienced some of the privations so

* He left his native town at so early a date that his relatives had lost all knowledge of him. It was with much difficulty that he was traced out, and his descendants found. His children, when found, though already aged themselves, knew nothing of their ancestors, or of their father's connections, and seemed surprised and rejoiced to learn that they had many relatives, and an uncle still living; and what was still more singular, these children had become so separated in their settlements, that they did not know where each other resided, each having to be traced out separate, requiring much time and labor.

† I am told that there was a son by the name of Ambros in the above family, who died young, being killed by the falling of a tree.

Thomas P. G. —

common during the war. Six weeks comprised his entire school advantages. I find among his papers several commissions, viz: one Ensign, dated 1791; Lieutenant, 1792; Captain, 1803; and Justice of the Peace, in 1805.

For several years he was a selectman of the town, and appears to have taken considerable interest in public affairs. It was, however, chiefly in his office of Justice of the Peace, that he became known and appreciated by the public.

Misdemeanors and crimes of a deeper shade seem to me to have been more frequent then than now, and the spirit of litigation more common. But his principal business was the collection of debts. His attention and scrupulous regard for the interest of the creditor, soon attracted from a large circle most of the business in this line. In identifying himself with the interests of the creditor, he did not overlook what was due to the debtor, and usually secured the esteem of both.

So large was his legal business of various kinds, that he required almost the entire time of a sheriff to serve the numerous papers he issued. Justices then made writs returnable before themselves. He necessarily had his regular court days. These were often numerously attended, and sometimes parties appeared by eminent advocates, making these days of great interest to me.

How long his business continued so large, I do not recollect; but at length, from changes in the laws and the usages of society, it diminished. As his business from these sources decreased, he extended it in other directions. He surveyed lands and wrote deeds, wrote wills and administered on numerous estates, and became a sort of general counsellor and legal adviser and assistant for a large circle of acquaintances.

In his more private relations, as in those already mentioned, he was the same man of mind, of principle, of a moral sense rarely in fault, to which sentiment and passion, were subjected to reason; and the highest good, rather than the greatest gratification, had prominence.

The above is a very inadequate expression of a life so full of earnest and various occupations. I have mentioned those acts and features which seemed to me most likely to be of some general interest to our numerous relatives, known and unknown.

That your work may become a medium to the widely scattered members of the Peck family, and like the telegraph wire, bring us nearer together, and into more interesting relations, is the desire and confident hope of yours,

Respectfully,

G. M. PECK.

[1691.] DEACON BENJAMIN⁶ PECK, son of PELEG,⁵ resides in Rehoboth, Mass. He has been a mechanic. During a portion of his early life, he was a millwright by occupation; an ingenious and excellent workman, being one of the pioneers and leading men in the business. He built, in 1813, the two first water wheels that operated cotton machinery in Fall River, now one of the largest manufacturing cities in the country.

Coming upon the stage of active life at the commencement of improvements in mechanics and manufactures, he contributed much to their advancement. He early entered into the business of manufacturing. He has been one of the owners, and the manager of a cotton mill, for more than forty years, enjoying the confidence of those with whom he has been associated, and the community in which he has resided. Notwithstanding his age, — now in his 77th year, — he has but recently retired from business.

Although of decided political opinions, he has had no aspirations for political preferments. He has kept aloof from the corruptions of party politics, exercising in the community what was more congenial to his nature and feelings, a moral and religious influence.

He is deacon of the ancient Baptist church of Swansey, Mass., of which he has been a leading member for many years, the same church of which his grandfather was the deacon more than one hundred years before him.* He was early the subject of religious impressions. He was baptized while residing in Providence, in 1820, by Dr. Stephen Gano, and united with his church. When he settled in Rehoboth, he removed his relations with this church to that in Swansey, where he still continues to worship.

Deacon Peck early took an interest in whatever related to his ancestry, and watched with much interest and kind feelings my efforts in tracing back our progenitors, and following out their descendants, often lending me his helping hand. To his assistance in tracing out the Rehoboth Pecks, I am more indebted than to any other one. For his kindness and for his generosity in contributing his likeness for the history, I am under many obligations.

He married Mary Luther, daughter of Martin Luther, of Swansey, Mass. She died September 23, 1825.

Mr. King is a machinist; an ingenious and excellent workman. He also takes an active interest in public matters. He has held different offices. He now represents his town in the State Legislature.

* This church was organized in 1663, by the Rev. John Myles, from Swansey, in Wales (England), from which place he fled to escape persecution for his religious opinions, and nonconformity to the doctrines of the church. Mr. Miles and his adherents for some time encountered the same intolerant sentiment here. The organization of the church was offensive to the congregational church at Rehoboth, and other churches, and the interposition of the court at Plymouth was sought to arrest the growth of the new doctrine. Each member of this church, at one time, was fined five pounds, and prohibited from worship for the space of one month.

They removed out of Rehoboth, and erected a house for worship at Wannamoisset, a neck of land now in Barrington. They afterwards removed to near where their present house stands.

The opposition they met with seemed only to bring them into notice. Mr. Myles was an able and learned man, and the church soon became the centre of a widespread influence, receiving members from the surrounding towns. In 1667, these Baptists were incorporated into a town, taking the name of Swansey, which it still retains.

PART FOURTH.

THE DESCENDANTS OF SAMUEL² PECK,

FOURTH SON OF JOSEPH¹ THE ANCESTOR.

SAMUEL PECK was born at Hingham, Mass., and baptized there, February 3, 1638-9. He removed with his father to Seekonk, and remained upon the homestead after his decease. He was one of the deacons of the church. He also held various town and other offices. He was a Deputy to the General Court at Plymouth, in 1689 and 1692. He was the first representative from the town after the Colony of Plymouth and Massachusetts were united.*

The following is a copy of his will, from the Records at Taunton, Mass., Book 2, p. 207:

I Samuel Peck of y^e town of Rehoboth in the county of Bristol in y^e Province of Massachusetts Bay Being in perfect health and of good and perfect memory thanks be unto God for the same do make & ordain this my last will & testament in man^r & form following that is to say Item I give unto my only son Noah Peck my house barn orchard & house lot & all my land in the s^d division & in the great plain with my land lying easterly from Ebenezer Waltiers house and land with all my fresh meadow and salt meadow lying in Rehoboth or Swansey excepting the corn on the ground and I give unto my son Noah Peck one silver bowl

Item I give unto my daughter Sarah Sabin my feather bed on which I lie with the furniture belonging there unto one silver spoon &

* Plymouth Colony was annexed to Massachusetts by the charter of William and Mary, in 1692.

fifty acres of land lying & being in the north purchase with all my meadow in that purchase

Item I give unto my son in law Samuel Paine fifty acres of Land lying on the east side of Palmers river and One hundred pounds commonage in the town of Rehoboth to be to his disposal of for any of my grand children at his discretion

Item I give unto my grand daughter Anne Paine one feather bed with one covered & two blankets

Item I give unto my grand daughter Sarah Paine one silver spoon

Item I give unto my son Noah Peck my wearing apparell my staf and my cart wheels and ploughs and chaines and if Joseph Paine serve him till his indenture be out then my son Noah is to fulfill all the indenture and then I give to said Joseph Paine forty acres of land which is to be layed out, the lot being drawn for it

Item I give unto my son Noah Peck all my arms and amunition

Item I do ordain & make my son Noah Peck Executor of this my last will and Testament And my Will is that after my body be burried funeral charges & debts paid and the contract maid with my wife before marriage be fulfilled that then the remainder of my estate not particularly mentioned be equally divided between my son Noah & my daughter Sabin and my son in law Samuel Paine for the use of his children my grand children

Item I give unto my son Noah Peck that piece of upland which lies joining to my salt meadow & all my interest in the undivided lands in the North purchase and the remaining part of my commonage in Rehoboth

In witness where of I now set my hand and seal the eleventh day of June Anno Domini one thousand seven hundred and five and in the fourth year of the Reign of Queen Ann

Signed Sealed & delivered in the presents of [2579.] NOAH PECK³ son of SAMUEL,² settled upon the homestead, given him by his father. He was a representative from his town to the General Court, in 1712. Upon the records he is called Lieut. Noah Peck.

I learn but little in relation to him, and find nothing in relation to his descendants. He disposed of a portion of his lands soon after the decease of his father, and the remainder about 1719.

It is thought by some, that his sons all died young, or without issue; and by others, that he removed to Connecticut, or some distant place, where his descendants have not been distinguished from others of the name. The former supposition is the most probable.

He married Hannah Winter, March 4, 1702.

CHICAGO, ILL.

PART FIFTH.

THE DESCENDANTS OF NATHANIEL² PECK,

THE FIFTH SON OF JOSEPH¹ THE ANCESTOR.

NATHANIEL PECK was born at Hingham, Mass., and baptized there October 31, 1641, and removed from there with his father and family to Seekonk, afterwards Rehoboth. He settled upon the lands given him and his brother Israel, in what is now Barrington, R. I., near the present residence of Ellis Peck, Esq. They were a part of the lands purchased by the proprietors of Osamequin and his son Wamsetta.

The record of the deed of these lands, known by the name of Poppanomscut, alias Phebe's Neck, Sowames or Sowamsit, is upon the proprietors' records now in the care of the Town Clerk at Warren, R. I., dated March 29, 1653, B. 1, pg. 9, where their location and division into lots may be learned. They are now partly in Bristol, Warren, Swansey, Rehoboth, and Barrington.

The lands given to Nathaniel and Israel by their father remained undivided, the most of them at least, until after the son of Nathaniel became of age. They are referred to upon the proprietors' records, first after the decease of Nathaniel, as the lands of Israel and the heirs of Nathaniel; and afterwards, as the lands of Nathaniel and his uncle Israel.

Upon the proprietors' records, January 1698-9, B. 1, pg. 73, may be found the division of their lands, some lying at Kechmuet, Scamscammuck, Chachapoucoset, and other places.

Nathaniel and his wife died at an early age. He was buried August 12, 1676, and his wife Deliverance, May 1, 1675 (R. Rec. B. 1). He had three children, and left at his decease,—as appears by the Massachusetts Colonial records,—two, a son and a daughter.

The Court, as appears upon record, appointed Jonothan Bosworth and Samuel Peck, November 1, 1676, to administer upon the estate of Nathaniel Peck, there being "two children, a son and a daughter." The Court ordered that the son should have double that of the daughter, and that the estate remain undivided until they become of age, or until they choose their own guardians.

The births of two of his children are upon the records at Swansey. That of the daughter I could not find. A number of the first leaves of the first book of births at Swansey, have been destroyed or lost; it was without doubt upon them. She doubtless died young, as did her brother Elisha, as I find no mention of her name in the division of her father's estate.

[2588.] NATHANIEL³ PECK, son of NATHANIEL,² settled upon the lands left him by his father. He was a prominent man, and held various public offices. He is called upon the records for several years Lieut. Nathaniel, and afterwards Deacon Nathaniel. He was twice married: first, to Christian Allen, of Swansey, March 8, 1695-6; second, to Judith Smith, of Rehoboth, July 18, 1705 (S. Rec. B 1). His first wife deceased June 8, 1702; his second wife November 10, 1743; he August 5, 1751.

The following is from his tombstone, which is in Barrington :

In Memory of Deacon Nathaniel Peck who departed this life on y^e 5th day of August 1751 in y^e 82^d year of his Age

The graves of the two last children are in the burying-ground at Seekonk.

[2591.] EBENEZER⁴ PECK, son of NATHANIEL,³ resided in Barrington, near his father. He left no issue. His will is upon the records at Taunton, Mass., B. 4, p. 346, dated June 16, 1724.

He gives to his wife Mary, 250 Acres of Land in Ashford County, of Hartford, Conn., with his household stuff, one yoke of oxen, &c. To his brother Nathaniel, 100 acres of land in Ashford, and two bonds of 209 pounds, and his mare and sheep. He also gives his wife one bond of 33 pounds. He gives to his brother Thomas, 50 Acres of Land in Ashford, Conn. He gives to his brothers Nathaniel and Thomas a bond of 37 pounds and 16 shillings, and his wearing apparel, to be equally divided betwixt them. He appoints his honored father and Zachariah Bignell executors of his will.

[2592.] NATHANIEL⁴ PECK, son of NATHANIEL,³ settled in the south-easterly part of Seekonk, not far from what has since been known as Major Monroe's, upon the farm recently known as the Doct. Hutchins' place.

By his will, which is upon the Records at Taunton, Mass., B. 15, p. 107, dated May 8, 1756, he appears to have been a man of wealth. He is called upon the Records Lieut. Nathaniel.

He gives to his wife the use of the best room in his Mansion house, with a privilege in the kitchen. He gives her the privilege of keeping a cow and horse, winter and summer, and whatever else she may choose to keep so long as she remains his widow.

He also gives her 20 lbs. of flax and 15 lbs. of wool yearly; also all his indoor movables, one horse, and one cow. He requires his son Comfort to provide for her ten bushels of indian corn, five bushels of rye, two hundred weight of pork and one hundred weight of beef yearly, so long as she shall remain his widow. He also gives her his negro girl slave, named Rose.* He gives his daughter, Mary Jacobs,

* The names of slaves occasionally occur among these early settlers upon records and gravestones in the burial grounds.

The following is an instance:

Here lies the best of Slaves,
Now turning into dust.
Cease the Ethiopian craves
A place among the just.

His faithful Soul is fled
To realms of Heavenly light,
And by the blood of Jesus shed
Is changed from black to white.
Jan 15 he quit the stage,
In the 77th year of his age. 1780...

wife of Allen Jacobs, 5 pounds 13 shillings and 4 pence ; to his daughter Abigail Barney, wife of Martain Barney, 5 pounds 13 shillings and 4 pence. He gives five sheep to his beloved grandson Nathaniel Peck, and three to his granddaughter Mary Jacobs. He divides his lands and common rights among his three sons, Thomas, Comfort & Peleg ; giving Comfort the homestead. He makes Comfort and his wife his executor and executrix. His inventory, which is upon the records at Taunton, B. 15, P. 207, is lengthy. Among the property named is one negro man, about 70 or 80 years old, one negro woman, about 40 years old, appraised at 13 pounds 6 shillings and 8 pence. One negro girl, about 8 years old, appraised at 20 pounds. One mulatto boy, about 13 years old, bound as an apprentice until 21 years of age.

He died in the army at Fort Edward, August 5, 1756 (R. Rec. B. 1). His wife was Alce Fish, of Portsmouth, R. I.

[2742.] REV. THOMAS⁷ PECK, son of PELEG,⁶ was twice married; first, to Naomi Green, August 30, 1810, daughter of William Green, of Rhode Island; second, to Nancy A. Nichols, December 20, 1845, daughter of Jeremiah Nichols, of Connecticut. His first wife was born December 24, 1792, and died August 27, 1845. His second wife was born October 20, 1824, and was residing at Pierson, Mich., in 1864. To her kindness I am indebted for my information. He was a Methodist clergyman. He died March 6, 1862.

He commenced preaching in Naples, Ohio, in 1822. He was ordained Elder by Bishop Hedding, in 1839. He removed from Naples to Ohio, in hopes of benefiting his failing health, in 1854. From here, by the advice of his physicians, he removed to Wisconsin, where he remained four years without receiving any benefit, when it was thought advisable for him to return to the east of Lake Michigan. He removed to Pierson in 1859. He was a faithful minister, and I am told was much beloved by his people.

He was twice married; first, to Rosilla Park, daughter of Doct. Park, of Onondaga Co., N. Y., January 2, 1825; second, to Mrs. Ellen F. Reed, formerly Miss Ellen F. Cooper, of St. Genevieve County, Mo., February 19, 1850. He commenced the practice of medicine at the age of twenty-three years, and settled in Licking County, Ohio, in 1837. From there he removed, in 1841, to the then Territory of Iowa, and settled at Keosauqua, Van Buren County. In 1859 he removed to Missouri, and settled in the town of Ironton, Iron County, where he continued to reside until his decease, June 18, 1868.*

Dr. Peck followed his profession more than forty years, and was a successful practitioner. Being naturally of a sympathetic temperament, he was eminently fitted to feel for the afflicted, and to become interested for their relief.

* He was one of the Delegates to the Missouri Constitutional Convention, which convened January 6, 1865, at St. Louis.

As a citizen he was respected, and called by the suffrages of his friends to fill many offices of responsibility; and while his general good character secured for him the respect and esteem of the public, his domestic and private virtues were such as to acquire the love and affection of his family.

PART SIXTH.

THE DESCENDANTS OF ISRAEL^s PECK.

SIXTH SON OF JOSEPH¹ THE ANCESTOR.

ISRAEL was born at Hingham, Mass., and baptized there, March 4, 1644. He moved from there with his father and family to Seekonk. He settled in what is now Barrington, upon the lands given him and his brother Nathaniel, near where is now the residence of Mr. Ellis Peck. For a description of these lands, see part 5th, in reference to the settlement of Nathaniel.

Israel Peck married Bethiah Bosworth, daughter of Jonathan Bosworth, July 15, 1670. They both lived to be aged. The following are the inscriptions upon their tombstones:

Here lieth the body of M^r Israel Peck died Sept^r y^e 2^d 1723 in y^e 80th year of his Age

Here lyeth intrd the body of M^{rs} Bethiah daughter of Jonathan Bosworth and wife of M^r Israel Peck died Apr 4th 1718 Aged 75 years

He held various public offices. His will is recorded upon the records at Taunton, Mass., B. 4, p. 220. The following is a copy:

[3376.] NATHANIEL³ PECK, son of ISRAEL,² settled upon the lands given him by his father, where he lived and died.

He appears to have been a prominent man in the town. His will may be found upon the early records of Warren, R. I., B. 1, p. 131. He had previously given away the most of his lands by deed.

He gives to his wife Sarah the improvement of his real and personal estate during her natural life.

He gives to his granddaughter, Sarah Mathews, 12 sheep with their lambs, two cows, 2 feather beds with the bedsteads & furniture belonging to them, and a high chest of draws to be delivered to her when she arrived to the age of 21 years, or on the day of her marriage.

He gives to his beloved son Israel and his eldest male heir, and to the heirs and assigns of the said male heir, a tract of land lying by Hunt's tree.

To Simeon and Nathaniel, his beloved sons, to be equally divided between them, he gives his husbandry, tools & tacklin.

He gives to his sons Israel, Simeon & Nathaniel, to be divided equally between them, his wearing apparel. He also makes his sons equal in his commonage rights in Rehoboth.

He gives to his beloved daughter Mary Bucklin, and his beloved granddaughter Sarah Mathews, all of his indoor and outdoor movables not in his will otherwise disposed of, to be equally divided between them after the decease of his wife.

He orders his sons Simeon & Nathaniel to pay the above legacies to Sarah Mathews, in consideration of which he gives to them, their heirs and assigns, to be divided according to quantity and quality after his wife's decease, all his land lying and being in Warren to be divided equally between them.

He appoints his wife Sarah his executrix. The will is dated Feb. 1st, 1755, and was proved Sept. 6, 1756.

Nathaniel married Sarah Field, of Hatfield, Mass., October 25, 1709. See Swansey Records.

CHILDREN — FIFTH GENERATION:

3386. +James, b. July 5, 1747.

3389. Mehitable, b. July 1, 1752.

3387. Israel, b. Feb. 20, 1748-9.

3390. Amy.

Died April 11, 1750.

3391. Mary.

3388. +Israel, b. Dec. 6, 1750.

3392. Nancy.

The first four children are recorded upon the records at Warren, R. I.

Mehitable married, for her first husband, — Sunderland. He left no children. For her second, — Robinson, and settled in Lanesborough, where he died, leaving three children. For her third husband, she married a man by the name of Farnum, and settled at Litchfield, where she died.

Amy married, for her first husband, Daniel Loomis, by whom she had four children. Mr. Heman Loomis, of Rochester, N. Y., to whom I am indebted for my information, is her grandson. For her second husband, she married Isaac Johnston, and settled at Amsterdam, N. Y., where she died in 1826. She was buried at Manney's corners.

Nancy married a Powel, of Lanesborough, where they settled and died.

Mary married John Durfee, of Dalton, Mass., December 20, 1786. She died August 7, 1845. He died in 1843. They had twelve children. Rev. Calvin Durfee, of Williamstown, Mass., is their son. To his kindness and that of his sister, Mrs. Sarah Torrey, of Berkshire, N. Y., I am indebted for my information.

[3384.] SIMEON⁴ PECK, son of NATHANIEL,³ settled upon the land given him by his father. He was a blacksmith by trade. He deeded away his lands in 1758-9 and '60. He afterwards settled at Amherst, Mass. The records at Springfield, Mass., show that he bought and sold lands in Amherst from 1773 to 1783. He died March 29, 1783.

He married Priscilla West, of Warren, R. I., November 24, 1748.

CHILDREN — FIFTH GENERATION:

3393. Bethiah, b. Oct. 3, 1751.

3396. Mary, b. April 17, 1758.

3394. + Joseph Kelly, b. Jan. 10, 1754.

3397. Nathaniel, b. Aug. 17, 1760.

3395. Simeon, b. Feb. 6, 1756.

I have been unable to learn what became of Bethiah, Simeon, Mary and Nathaniel.

[3385.] MAJ. NATHANIEL⁴ PECK, son of NATHANIEL,³ settled upon the lands given him by his father. These he disposed of, and removed to Amherst, Mass., where he died November 27, 1807. He kept a public house in Amherst for many years, and seems to have been a very prominent and influential citizen. He bought and sold lands in Amherst and the adjoining towns. In these deeds, he is usually called Maj. Nathaniel, or gentleman, instead of yeoman or laborer. He was in the war of the Revolution, and I am told held a Major's commission.

His wife was Mary Peck, widow of Winchester Peck, formerly Mary Mitchel, daughter of James Mitchel. She was born August 20, 1731, and died May 15, 1814.

CHILDREN — FIFTH GENERATION (W. Rec. B. 1):

3398. Sarah, b. Feb. 2, 1754.

3400. Jerusha, b. June 18, 1764.

3401. Nathaniel, b. Nov. 17, 1765.

Died in infancy.

This record is in the family bible, in the handwriting of Maj. Nathaniel. The births of the three first children are also upon the records at Warren, R. I. This bible, printed in London in 1728, was formerly the property of James Mitchel, the father of Nathaniel's wife, and was in the possession of the granddaughter of Nathaniel, Mrs. Elizabeth Moore, of Leverett, Mass., in 1864, when I visited her for the purpose of examining this record.

Sarah, the eldest daughter of Nathaniel, married Elisha Warner, and settled in Amherst, Mass., where they died, leaving no issue. He died December 10, 1823, and she September 13, 1825.

Mary married David Eaton, in 1787, and settled in Vermont. She died October 10, 1813; he August 20, 1823, leaving five children.

Jerusha married Samuel Miles, and settled in Williamsburg, Mass. He died at an early age; she October 8, 1848. Their children were: Elizabeth,⁶ born April 5, 1789; and James Michels, born February 13, 1791, and died in 1792. Elizabeth married Lewis Moore, May 3, 1810, and was residing, a widow, in Leverett, Mass., in 1864. He died January 4, 1843. [3416.] DR. GUSTAVUS D.⁶ PECK, of Northampton, Mass., son of WINCHESTER,⁵ graduated in his profession at the age of 21 years. He studied with Dr. Daniel Thurber, of Mendon, Mass. He first settled at Blackstone, Mass. From Blackstone he removed to Milford, Mass., where he remained in the practice of his profession until 1836, holding various public offices, acting also as councillor of the Massachusetts Medical Society. From Milford he removed to Sunderland, Mass., where he remained for ten years in practice. From there, in 1846, he removed to Northampton, Mass., where I found him still engaged in his profession in 1864. Although in his 77th year, he retained all his faculties to a remarkable degree for a man who had devoted fifty-six years to the practice of medicine. He has been, I am told, a very faithful, kind, and successful practitioner, much respected. He married Sally Perry, daughter of Elisha Perry, of Milford.

Sarah Elizabeth married Lieut.-Col. William S. B. Hopkins, of Northampton, Mass. They were residing in New Orleans in 1864.

Benjamin Whipple was residing, in 1864, at Aurora, Nevada Territory, unm.

[3453.] ALBION PERRY⁷ PECK, son of DR. GUSTAVUS D.,⁶ was residing at Northampton, Mass., in 1864. The early life of Mr. Peck, I learn, was passed as a teacher, previous to his settling at Northampton. He was elected teacher of the English School, at Worcester, Mass., June 22, 1828. He was also, I am told, principal of the school at Sunderland for some time.

The following extracts in relation to him were taken from the Northampton Business Directory :

Mr. Peck was appointed a Justice of the Peace in 1844. In 1855, he was appointed Register of Probate by Gov. Gardner. In 1856, he was chosen by the people to the same office, which he held until, by the act of the Legislature, the office was abolished, and its duties transferred to the Register of the new Court of Probate and Insolvency. In 1855, he was chosen a member of the General School Committee of Northampton.

In 1856, he was appointed Justice of the Quorum and Notary Public, and in 1860, a Trial Justice. In 1859, he was chosen Town Clerk. He has also been Treasurer of the Horticultural Club, and of the Hampshire, Franklin and Hampden Agricultural Society.

In addition to attending to his official duties, Mr. Peck has been engaged in other business.

In 1850, he was engaged in the grocery and druggist business. In 1853, he purchased the Lower Mills, so called, and carried on the flour and grain business until 1860, when he sold his interest.

I am told that he still holds the offices to which he has been elected to the very general satisfaction of the community, by whom he is not only honored but highly respected.

He married Sarah Ann Hibbon, daughter of James Hibbon, of Charleston, S. C., at Northampton, June 14, 1855.

CHILDREN — EIGHTH GENERATION :

8506. Julia Emma, b. at Northampton, Dec. 23, 1857.

8507. Sarah Perry, b. at Northampton, Jan. 30, 1860.

WILLIAMS LIBRARY - WIDENER LIBRARY

APPENDIX.

WIDENER LIBRARY - WIDENER LIBRARY

APPENDIX.

It was not at first designed to publish an account of any of the Pecks, aside from the descendants of Joseph Peck, the progenitor of the Massachusetts Pecks; but they were so mixed in their settlements throughout the country with other branches of the same patronymic descendants of other ancestors that it was unavoidable, and necessary to correspond with, and to collect much information in relation to others, before it could be determined to which branch of the name they belonged. As these correspondents and others seemed to expect that the information they had given was to be published, and desired to have it preserved, it was thought best to add an appendix, and publish it.

It was soon found that to render this intelligible, and of interest, it was necessary not only to add much more to it, but to follow out the different branches, trace them back to their ancestors, and separate their descendants from each other. This I have endeavored to do.

Although the descendants of neither of these ancestors have proved to be so numerous as those of Joseph, of Massachusetts, and his six sons, each of whom had families at an early date, yet their descendants have been found to be more numerous than was at first supposed. I have been fortunate in finding, though with much labor, all or nearly all of them. There are a few branches or families that I have been unable to carry through all the generations, owing to the imperfect manner in which early records were kept, and the want of interest felt in the subject, many refusing to assist me or to give me the information asked of them, or even to answer my letters or return my circulars. For these reasons there may be errors,—there doubtless will be, perhaps in assigning families or individuals to the wrong branch or ancestor,—if so, the arrangement of the work will enable those interested to find their proper places. There will doubtless be errors in names, dates and localities. For the correctness of these I have relied upon my correspondents and others who gave me the information, and have given it as it was given to me, where I had no means of knowing but that it was correct. There were a few records received which were not used for the want of others to complete the generations where they belonged, and render them intelligible.

The appendix has been the source of much loss as well as disappointment to me. It not only delayed the work much longer than was expected, but the subscriptions from the branches it contains amounted to but a small portion of its expense. The cost of its publication, and the collection of its material, was much more expensive, and required much more labor than was expected. To find and determine at this late day who were the children of Deacon Paul, Deacon William, Henry and Joseph, ancestors of the Connecticut Pecks, trace out their descendants to the present generations, and separate them from each other, required not only much of my time for two years, with a large correspondence, but also much travel, which was expensive.

I was obliged to make journeys into various towns, in different parts of the State, to examine town, church, probate and family records, and in but a few of them could I obtain any subscribers, and in no one of them enough to pay but a fraction of my expenses.

During my visits to Hartford, Wallingford, Stratford, Milford, Bridgeport and Norwalk, I obtained one subscriber towards paying my expenses, which with the town clerks' fees for copies, were over forty dollars. I was obliged to make other journeys, which were expensive. In Norwich, I obtained one subscriber; in Danbury, two; and in Newtown, where many of the early Pecks settled, and many of their descendants remain, four; and in the city of New Haven, to which place I made several journeys, and was obliged to spend much time in examining the town, church, probate records, and deeds, which was expensive, and where many of the descendants of Deacon Paul, Henry and Joseph reside, I obtained five. Where I sent my circulars, I obtained a few names; some not only gave me their own, but with much kindness obtained other names for me; while many refused even to return my circulars, although each contained, with the return postage, a request that they should do so.

Had I anticipated the want of interest in the subject, the coldness and indifference with which I have had to contend, among the Connecticut Pecks, I certainly never should have attempted to trace them out. Although some have lent me their aid, and treated me with a generosity and kindness which I shall long remember, some have treated me with a lack of generosity, if not a littleness and an unkindness which I shall try to forget.

Among the descendants of John, of Mendon, and among many of the descendants of the Connecticut Pecks, scattered through other States, I found more interest in the subject, and from them have received the most of my subscribers for the appendix.

Although I have had little to encourage me, I have done the best I could, and hope I shall have been the means of bringing much to the light in relation to the Connecticut Pecks, which would otherwise have been lost; and that the information I have collected will be of interest to many of them, and not only enable those of the different branches of the name to distinguish themselves from each other, but stimulate a desire to know more of their ancestry.

THE HINGHAM AND OTHER PECKS.

There were several bearing the surname of Peck who early emigrated from Old to New England and became progenitors, and died, leaving descendants. Some of these remained in Boston, while others settled in its vicinity, or removed to Connecticut. Mr. Savage says a (1) Richard Peck came over in the Defence, of London, in 1635, with (2) Margery, supposed to be his wife, and (3) Israel and (4) Elizabeth, his children, and is thought, by some, to have been the brother of (5) Paul, afterward Deacon Paul Peck, of Hartford, Conn.; but I have found no trace of him or his son.* Mr. Savage (see his excellent work, the Genealogical Dictionary) supposes his son Israel to have been the Israel of Rehoboth, Mass., who had Israel, b. Dec. 18, 1674 (should be 73), and Bethiah, Jan. 2, 1680; but in this supposition he is mistaken. This Israel was the youngest of the three sons of Joseph, ancestor of the Massachusetts Pecks, born, after his arrival in this country, at Hingham, Mass. Rev. Peter Hobart says, in his journal, that he was baptized March 4, 1644. For his family, see No. 3374. There was also a (6) Nathaniel Peck in Hingham, who, Daniel Cushing, the town clerk, says, arrived in 1635. Mr. Savage supposes him to have settled at Rehoboth, and to have been the Nathaniel who had a son Elisha by his wife Deliverance, born Aug. 25, 1676. But this Nathaniel was, also, the son of Joseph, the next older than Israel. His family is at No. 2588. Who the Nathaniel of 1635 was, or what became of him, is not known. He is supposed by some to have been the son of Robert, and to have returned to England. If so, he was about twenty-one years of age, being born, as may be seen by a reference to his father's family upon the chart, Sep. 13, 1614.

There was also a (7) Simon Peck in Hingham, in 1657, who, Mr. Savage says, married Hannah Farnsworth. She d. April 16, 1659. He afterwards married Prudence Clap, of Dorchester, Feb. 13, 1660, daughter of Edward Clap. By Mr. Hobart's Journal, it appears that his children were, a daughter, b. Dec. 25, 1660; (8) Joseph, b. —, d. Jan. 12, 1662; (9) Joseph, baptized Feb. 25,

* It will be seen that Mr. Drake, in his list of the names of the founders of New England (Genealogical Register, Vol. 14, p. 320), spells this name Perk instead of Peck, and the child's name Isabell, not Israel.

1663; (10) John, b. April 20, 1667; (11) Joseph, baptized Nov. 1, 1668; (12) Surah, b. June 3, 1669; (13) Joseph, b. July 2, 1671, baptized the 9th, and died the 11th of same month. What became of Simon, or when he died, I did not learn. By an examination of the Hingham records, it will be seen that he sold his homestead in May, 1669. He drew four lots in the division of lands in Cohasset in 1670, but sold them in 1677. He was one of the selectmen.

THE BOSTON PECKS.

In relation to the Boston Pecks may be found, upon record there, many deeds, also wills, births, marriages and deaths. As I had occasion to examine and make memorandums of some of these while searching for lost ones of other branches, I give a few of such as were preserved, in hopes it may draw the attention of some one to the subject, who may trace out and publish a history of these Boston Pecks. Had I designed them at first for this use, I should have made the list more full and perfect.

Upon the Probate Records, B. 11, p. 259, may be found the appointment of Elizabeth Peck, widow, administratrix upon the estate of (14) John Peck, of Boston, mariner, deceased, dated Feb. 25, 1696-7.

On B. 14, p. 128, is the will of (15) Thomas Peck, sen., who was a shipwright, dated March 3, 1698. He seems to have been a man of wealth. He bought and sold much land in Boston and other places, and also vessels. In his will he bequeaths houses, lands, warehouses, wharves, docks, etc. He names his wife Elizabeth, sons (16) John, deceased, (17) Benjamin, (18) Thomas, jr., shopkeeper, and (19) Nathaniel; and daughters (20) Faith Waldo, (21) Elizabeth Fisher, and (22) Rachel Potter. John, deceased, and wife Elizabeth, had two daughters, if no more, (23) Elizabeth Gooch, and (24) Mary, and a son (25) William. Benjamin had two sons, (26) Benjamin and (27) William. Thomas J. and Nathaniel also had children not named in the will.

An administrator was appointed upon the estate of Martha Peck, widow, Jan. 1, 1750, B. 44, p. 27.

A guardian was appointed for (28) Mary, a minor daughter of (29) Samuel Peck, late of Boston, blacksmith, Oct. 1756, B. 51, p. 348.

An inventory of the estate of Samuel Peck was presented by (30) Thomas Handasyde Peck, Oct. 29, 1756, B. 51, p. 349. Martha Peck was appointed administratrix upon the estate of her husband, (31) James Peck, of Boston, mariner, Feb. 11, 1757, B. 52, p. 52. (32) Samuel Peck was appointed administrator upon the estate of his brother, (33) William Peck, of Boston, glazier, Jan. 4, 1760, B. 56, p. 207. WILL OF THOMAS HANDASYDE PECK.

In the name of God, Amen ; this thirty first day of August, in the year of our, Lord One thousand seven hundred & seventy four, I, Thomas Handasyde Peck of Boston, in the county of Suffolk & Province of the Massachusetts Bay in New England, Hatt Maker, being of sound Mind & Memory, Thanks be to God for it ; & not knowing how short my Time in this World may be ; Do make & ordain, this my last Will & Testament, in manner following.

First,— I do commit my soul into the Hands of God who gave it, & my body to the Earth, to be burried in a decent manner, by my Executors hereafter named, in Hope of a joyful Ressurrection by the Power, & thro' the Merits of my Lord & savior Jesus Christ. And, as to the worldly Goods God has been pleased to bestow on me, I do dispose in the following manner.

First,— I do order, that all my just Debts & funeral Expenses be paid, after my Decease, as soon as may be.

Item.— I give unto my beloved Wife, Elizabeth Peck, Eighty Pounds lawful Money, to be paid her annually during her natural life by my Executor.

Item.— I give my said Wife, my Negro man, Solomon, during her natural life.

Item,— I give my said Wife my Horse & both my Chaise.

Item.— I give my said Wife, her living in my House where in I now live, with the Improvement of all the Land and Buildings belonging there to, during her natural Life ; the aforesaid House & Buildings to be kept in Repair, out of my Estate.

Item.— I give my said wife, the improvement of all my Houshold Goods during her natural Life.

Item.— I give to my Grandson Thomas Handasyde, son of my late son Doctor John Peck, & the Heirs of his Body, lawfully begotten, if he lives to the age of Twenty one years, all my Brick Buildings in Merchants Row ; which I bought of Gillman Phillips Esq, with the land, & all the appurtenances there to belonging ; said Buildings to be kept in good repair out of the Rent of said buildings, and my Executors to receive the rents of said buildings untill my Grand son arrives to the age of Twenty one years. But, if my said Grand son should die before he arrives to the age of Twenty One years, or he should leave no Heirs, lawfully begotten of his body ; then my will is, that my aforesaid Buildings go to the children of my daughter Elizabeth Perkins.

Item.— I give to my Grand son Tho^r Handasye Peck, thirty Pounds lawful money pr annum ; to be paid by his Guardian for his maintenance untill he arrives to the age of Twenty one years, and then, the said legacy to cease.

Item.— My Will is, that if my grand son, Thomas Handasyde Peck lives untill the age of Twenty one years, that my Executors pay him Two hundred and fifty Pounds lawfull money, out of my personal Estates ; also, if my said Grand son, (43) Thomas Handasyde Peck, should live to the age of Twenty four years, that then my Executors pay my aforesaid Grand son, Two hundred Pounds Lawful money, besides the aforesaid two hundred & fifty Pounds out of my personal Estate.

Item.— I give my four grand sons, viz, James Perkins, Tho^r Handasyde Perkins, Samuel Perkins and, Tho^r Handasyde Peck, all that Track or parcel of land which I bought of Mr Samuel Green of Boston Marriner, being one quarter Part of a full share of the Land called Muscongus, being on Ponobscut River, being two thousand two Hundred & fifty acres.

Item.— My Will is, that my Executor pay to my Honored Mother, Mrs Margaret Mitchel, Twenty six Pounds thirteen shillings & four Pence lawful Money, annually, during her natural life ; & if that is not enough to maintain her, then my Will is, that my Executor supply her out of my Estate, what may be sufficient for her, and at her death, to bury her handsomely out of my Estate. The above Twenty six Pounds thirteen shillings & four pence is what I am obliged by Bond, to pay my said Mother.

Item.— I give to my Nephew Robert Maynard Peck, sixty six Pounds thirteen shillings & four pence, lawful Money, to be paid in one Month after my Decease ; & if he owes me any Debts on Book Note or otherwise, I release them.

Item.— I give unto Samuel Baley sixty six Pounds, thirteen shillings & four Pence, Lawful money, to be paid him in one Month after my Decease ; & if he owes me any Debts on Book, Note, or otherwise, I release them.

Item.— My Will is that Twenty six hundred & sixty six Pounds, thirteen shillings & four pence, Lawful Money, of my Personal Estate, be put to Interest by my Executors, on good land security, within this Province ; & the Interest of said money, with the rents of my Real Estate, to be appropriated towards paying my Mother, my wife, & my Grand son, annually, as above.

Item.— My Will is, that my Executors pay out of the foregoing Money sixty pounds, thirteen shillings & four pence, Lawful Money, to each of my daughter Perkin's Children, when they arrive to the age of Twenty one years ; & when the above Legacies are paid, then I give all the Remainder of my personal Estate unto my Daughter (44) Elizabeth Perkins, & her Heirs.

Item. — I give to my Daughter Elizabeth Perkins, & the Heirs of her body, all the Remainder of my Real Estate, wherever it may be found, not before given away :

Item.— I do constitute my beloved Wife, Elizabeth Peck & my Daughter Elizabeth Perkins, to be my Executors, of this, my last Will ; here by revoking &, making void all Wills here to fore made by me.

In witness where of, I the said Thomas Handasyde Peck, the Testator, have here unto set my hand & seal this thirty first Day of August One thousand seven Hundred & seventy four.

Signed, sealed & published by the Testator, in Presence of us to be his last Will & Testament.

The will is recorded upon Book 76, page 101. He seems to have been a man of wealth. He was a merchant, and is said to have dealt largely in furs, and the importation of hats.

I regret that I have been able to learn so little in relation to him, his ancestors and descendants bearing the name. I found no one who could give me any information in relation to them ; or, who would take any interest in the subject.

His brother John died about 1761, leaving a son, Robert Maynard Peck, who died about 1782, leaving a son William.

The children of Mr. Peck were: Elizabeth, b. Feb. 14, 1735, and John, b. Aug. 24, 1743. The son, Doctor John Peck, died about 1768, leaving a son, Thomas Handasyde Peck. The daughter married James Perkins, a merchant of Boston, who died in middle age, leaving her a widow with eight children, three sons and five daughters. She was a woman of superior ability, energy and perseverance, and reared her family, giving them an education, and her sons such advantages as fitted them for active business lives, which they lived, occupying positions of honor and responsibility with credit to themselves and to her.

She seems to have been a woman of excellent principles, generous, benevolent and charitable, and to have found time and means, aside from the wants and cares of her family, to take an active part with the charitable and benevolent associations of the time.

On her decease, which occurred in 1807, it was voted that the officers of the Boston Female Asylum wear a badge of mourning for the term of seventy-one days, corresponding to the number of years she had lived.

Her descendants are numerous, many of them distinguished for their wealth, intelligence and refinement. Her second son, Thomas Handasyde Perkins, born Dec. 15, 1764, and named for his grandfather Peck, to whom his mother was in part, at least, indebted for her means of rearing her family,—became one of the most eminent, successful and wealthy merchants of Boston.

A memoir of him was published by Thomas G. Cary, Esq., his son-in-law, from which and other sources I have taken the liberty to make a few extracts and draw for such facts in relation to him as it was thought would be of interest to those of my readers who might never see the excellent work of Mr. Cary.

His mother decided to give him a collegiate education; but, when prepared for Cambridge, he was reluctant to enter upon the life of a student, and was placed with the Messrs. Shattuck, then among the most active merchants of Boston, where he remained until twenty-one years of age. He then joined his elder brother James in forming a house in St. Domingo. Finding that the climate there did not agree with his health, he returned to Boston, his younger brother, Samuel G., filling his place in the firm.

He soon after turned his attention to trade with China. During the revolution of 1792 in St. Domingo, his brothers returned to Boston. He then formed a co-partnership with his elder brother James, under the firm of J. & T. H. Perkins. This firm continued until the death of the latter, in 1822. Their most important business was the trade of their ships on the northwest coast and with China.

They finally established a house in Canton, under the firm of Perkins & Co., which became one of great importance, and was eminently successful.

Mr. Perkins found time, in addition to that required in his commercial pursuits, to devote to business of a public nature. About 1794, he was made commander of the military corps, which constituted the guard and escort on public occasions for the Governor, with the rank of Lieutenant-Colonel, and was afterwards known as Colonel Perkins. He was soon afterwards chosen President of the Boston branch of the United States Bank. In 1805, he was elected to the Senate of the State, and for many years afterwards was a member of one branch or other of the State Legislature.

As the wealth of Col. Perkins accumulated, he expended a portion of it for charitable, public and benevolent purposes. He took an active and very important part in measures for establishing the Massachusetts General Hospital, with an asylum for the insane. He and his elder brother James contributed five thousand dollars each towards the fund. He also did much for the Boston Athenæum. He was one of the founders of the Bunker Hill Monument Association, and the originator of the statue of General Warren, towards which he subscribed one thousand dollars. He also took a deep interest in the completion of the national monument to the memory of Washington, and one of almost the last acts of his life was an effort to raise funds in Massachusetts towards insuring its completion. This noble act of his was publicly alluded to by the Hon. Robert C. Winthrop, in a speech before the Massachusetts Charitable Mechanic Association, at one of their annual festivals. In alluding to this act of Col. Perkins, he says :

I cannot forget the earnest and affectionate interest with which that noble hearted old American gentleman devoted the last days, and I had almost said the last hours, of his life to arranging the details and the machinery for an appeal to the people of Massachusetts in behalf of that still unfinished structure. He had seen Washington in his boyhood, and had felt the inspiration of his majestic presence ; he had known him in his manhood, and had spent two or three days with him, by particular invitation, at Mount Vernon,—days never to be forgotten in any man's life ; his whole heart seemed to be imbued with the warmest admiration and affection for his character and services ; and it seemed as if he could not go down to his grave in peace until he had done something to aid in perpetuating the memory of his virtues and valor.

But perhaps no better description of the character of Col. Perkins can be given, or a more just tribute now paid to his memory, than is contained in a note by the Hon. Daniel Webster, written with his own hand on the blank leaf of a copy of his works, which he presented to him.

WASHINGTON, April 19, 1852.

MY DEAR SIR :—If I possessed anything which I might suppose likely to be more acceptable to you as a proof of my esteem than these, I should have sent it in their stead.

But I do not, and therefore ask your acceptance of a copy of this edition of my speeches.

I have long cherished, my dear sir, a profound, warm, affectionate, and, I may say, a filial regard for your person and character. I have looked upon you as one born to do good, and who has fulfilled his mission ; as a man without spot or blemish ; as a merchant, known and honored over the whole world ; a most liberal supporter and promoter of science and the arts ; always kind to scholars and literary men, and greatly beloved by them all ; friendly to all the institutions of religion, morality and education ; and an unwavering and determined supporter of the constitution of the country, and of those great principles of civil liberty which it is so well calculated to uphold and advance.

These sentiments I inscribe here in accordance with my best judgment and out of the fulness of my heart ; and I wish here to record, also, my deep sense of the many personal obligations under which you have placed me in the course of our long acquaintance.

Your faithful friend,

DANIEL WEBSTER.

To the Hon. Thos. H. Perkins.

He died January 11, 1854, in the ninetieth year of his age.

The fine engraving which I give is from a portrait by Gambardella, an Italian artist, and, I am told, was a most excellent likeness of him at the age of 73 years. The expression, it will be seen, is indicative of the kind and noble heart he possessed.

Upon the early records of deeds in Boston are many conveyances to and from the Pecks, among which are the following: From Thomas Peck senior Shipwright and Elizabeth his wife of 20 Acres of land lying and being at muddy brook in the town ship of Boston (B. 12, p. 30) Jan 20—1680 consideration 30 pounds Deed to Thomas Peck jr Shipwright of pasture land in Boston (B. 13 p. 239) in 1684. Also, a deed from Thomas Peck of a vessel of 45 tons burden, then riding at anchor in the harbor of Boston dated Aug 24—1760 B. 7 p. 33.

(147) William Dandredge Peck, an eminent naturalist, and for several years Professor of Natural History at Harvard College, was a descendant of one of the Boston Pecks. He was born May 8, 1763. He was prepared for college by Mr. Ward, of Brookline. He was admitted Bachelor of Arts at Cambridge in 1782. In 1805, he was elected Professor of Natural History. He died at Cambridge, Oct. 3, 1822.* His father, John Peck, was said to have been one of the most successful shipbuilders and scientific naval architects that the United States had then produced.

THE MENDON PECKS.

When the Pecks of this branch were first found, they were supposed to be of the Rehoboth Pecks; and many of the families were traced out before it was discovered that they could not be connected with that branch of the name or with the Connecticut Pecks. After tracing them back to their ancestor, John Peck, of Mendon, Mass., he was supposed to be of the Boston branch, the son of Simon, of Hingham. As many of the branch desired that its descendants should be traced out, and their record preserved, and to reward those who furnished information, it was thought best to do so. It is hoped that some of them will now feel interest enough in the subject to trace their ancestor back, and learn whatever there may be of interest in relation to him.

*I was told that a son of his was residing in Sterling, Mass., and wrote him, but could get no response.

I should have been pleased to have published a more extended notice of his father and a history of his ancestry, if he would have furnished me with it.

DESCENDANTS OF JOHN PECK, OF MENDON, MASS.

John Peck settled in Mendon, Mass., where he died, Sept. 6, 1725. His son Simon was appointed administrator upon the estate. (Boston Records, B. 24, p. 174.)

CHILDREN — SECOND GENERATION:

(1) Simon Peck, son of John and Millicent, his wife, was born March 27, 1698-4; (2) Hannah, b. —; (3) John, b. March 8, 1698-9; (4) Mary, b. March 28, 1702-3; (5) Elizabeth, b. July 16, 1709; (6) John again, b. March 27, 1714.

[1.] SIMON² PECK, son of JOHN,¹ being the eldest son, probably inherited his father's lands, and, as appears by the records at Worcester, Mass., soon began to dispose of them after his father's decease. He sold two full rights to Benjamin Taft, to be laid out in the eighth division, May 8, 1728. He also deeded, in 1736, seventy acres, lying at Magomisco hill, together with all the right, title and interest which his father had in the meadow known as Peck's meadow, to John Peck, Abijah Luther, and wife Prudence, and Elizabeth Peck, spinster, June 14, 1736. (B. 13, p. 340.) He deeded to Abraham Daniels, physician, a part of his homestead near the meeting-house, Dec. 8, 1739. He deeded to his son Ebenezer twenty acres of land in Uxbridge, Oct. 24, 1743, and to his sons Abraham and John all his home farm, March 6, 1750.

The following is a record of his family from the Uxbridge Records:

CHILDREN — THIRD GENERATION:

(7)+Ebenezer, son of Simon Peck and Sarah his wife, was b. Nov. 28, 1720; (8)+Abraham, b. Jan. 14, 1723-4; (9)+John, b. Dec. 30, 1726; (10) Sarah, b. Oct. 18, 1729; (11) Anna, b. April 22, 1732; (12) Sarah, b. Oct. 24, 1735; (13) Mary, b. Aug. 7, 1738. She and Sarah both married, one a Whitney and the other a Lothroppe.

[7.] EBENEZER³ PECK, son of SIMON,² left Uxbridge about 1750, and settled in Ashford, Conn. By the records of Uxbridge, it appears that the intention of marriage between him and Sarah Allen, of Uxbridge, was made public April 2, 1739, and that they were married June 19, 1739.

CHILDREN — FOURTH GENERATION:

(14) Samuel, b. March 5, 1740-1; (15) Hannah, b. June 23, 1743; (16) Nathan, b. Nov. 7, 1745; (17) Rachel, b. Feb. 17, 1747-8. He afterwards had, as I am told, (18) Ebenezer, (19) Simon, and (20) David, of whom I find no record.

[8.] ABRAHAM³ PECK, son of Simon,² settled in Coleraine, Mass., where he died, July 18, 1798. He married Mary Stuart, of Londonderry, N. H., Dec. 21, 1724. She was born May 23, 1730, and died Jan. 19, 1801.

CHILDREN — FOURTH GENERATION:

(21) Samuel, b. Sept. 18, 1755, d. Aug. 23, 1771; (22) Sarah, b. May 7, 1757, d. Sept. 4, 1771; (23) Mary, b. March 13, 1759, d. Aug. 5, 1767; (24) John, b. Jan. 17, 1761, d. Aug. 7, 1767; (25) Rachel, b. Nov. 11, 1767, d. Aug. 8, 1767; (26)+Abraham, b. June 24, 1767; (27) Lydia, b. Aug. 8, 1770, d. Aug. 9, 1775; (28) Margaret, b. March 23, 1773, d. Aug. 13, 1775.

[9.] JOHN³ PECK, son of SIMON,² left Uxbridge about 1753. He removed to Ashford, Conn., where he lived until a short time prior to his decease, when he removed to Vermont to reside with his son, where he died in 1805. He was four times married. The intention of his marriage with his first wife, Mary Brown, of Rehoboth, Mass., was made public at Uxbridge, as appears by the records, Oct. 27, 1750. For his second wife, he married Elizabeth Dennison, of Hampton, who died June 1767. For his third wife, he married Jerusha Preston. For his fourth, he married a widow Hollis. His first wife and two children died in Rehoboth, Mass.

CHILDREN — FOURTH GENERATION:

By his second wife were: (29)+Joseph; (30) Polly; (31)+John, b. Oct. 7, 1759; (32) Rhoda, b. Feb. 3, 1761; (33)+David, b. Sept. 18, 1762; (34) Elizabeth; (35) Lydia, b. Dec. 26, 1766. THE CONNECTICUT PECKS.

THE Connecticut Pecks are the descendants of Joseph, of Milford, Deacon William and Henry, of New Haven, and Deacon Paul, of Hartford. They were among the early settlers of the country. Each became the ancestor, or progenitor, of a numerous race. Their descendants are now scattered throughout most of the States and territories, mixed in their settlements with each other, and with the Massachusetts Pecks, requiring much labor to separate them.

What relationship existed between these ancestors has not been ascertained. None of the descendants, so far as I have learned, although many of them are men of wealth, and abundantly able, have ever attempted to trace them back to Europe, and learn the connection.

DESCENDANTS OF JOSEPH PECK, OF MILFORD, CONNECTICUT.

JOSEPH PECK resided at first at New Haven, Conn. His name does not appear upon the records until about 1643, although he is generally supposed to have resided there earlier, and to have been the brother of Henry, who settled there in 1638, with whom he seems to have resided, or associated, and with whom he probably came over to this country. Who his ancestors were has not been learned. I found none of his descendants who would take interest enough in the subject to assist in doing so. He left New Haven about 1649, and settled at Milford. He became a member of the church there in 1652. He was twice married: first, to Mrs. Alice Burwell, widow of John Burwell; second, to Miss Richards. The house in which he resided has but recently been taken down. It stood near the present residence of Capt. Cornelius B. Peck, a great-great-great-grandson, (who resides upon a portion of the ancient homestead,) and must have been more than two hundred years old. Its appearance was exceedingly unique and ancient,—two stories in front, in the lean-to style, sloping back to about six feet in rear, with a gable end to the street. He died in 1700–1. The settlement of his estate is upon the Milford Records, Book of Deeds No. 3, pp. 75, 76 and 77. It is quite lengthy and specific. He deeds to his son Joseph his lands, upon the conditions that he shall provide for and support him during his life, reserving to himself the control of his house, and the right, if his son Joseph or his heirs should fail to provide sufficient comforts, to sell off lands from time to time for that purpose.

He gave legacies to his son-in-law, Thomas Hayes, Mary, wife of William Northrop, and his daughter Anna. These legacies and the debts were to be paid by Joseph; one-half of the legacies immediately after the decease of his father, and the balance within three years.

John D. Lee

Gen. John J. entered the United States Military Academy in 1839, and graduated eighth in the large class of 1843, a brevet 2d Lieutenant of Artillery. His life has been an active one, and his military career brilliant and honorable.

In 1845, he entered the army of Gen. Taylor, with Duncan's Flying Artillery, and continued in the service through the Mexican war.

The part he acted, and the estimation in which his services were held, may be learned in the following extract from a letter of Gen. Worth to the Hon. Erastus Corning, John Van Buren, and others, dated City of Mexico, December 8, 1847:

"I have desired my young and gallant friend, Lieut. Peck, to hand you this, and beg to commend him to your consideration and kind attention. You will find the name and services of this officer in an official account of every battle, save one, from the commencement of this war to the conquest of the basin, as the associate of Duncan or Smith. He is of our State, and worthy of it."

For his gallant and meritorious conduct, he was honored with the brevet rank of Captain and Major.

On his return from the war, his fellow-citizens tendered him a public dinner, and presented him a sword, with the following inscription upon it:

Presented to

MAJOR J. J. PECK,

By the citizens of Manlius, as a testimonial of respect for his gallant and meritorious conduct in the battles of Palo Alto, Resaca de la Palma, Monterey, Vera Cruz, Cerro Gordo, Contreras, Churubusco, Molino del Rey, Chapultepec, Causeway and Gate of San Cosine and City of Mexico.

This was a record that a young man surely might well feel proud of.

He continued in the United States service until 1853, when he resigned his commission, and retired from the army, to enjoy a less arduous and more quiet life. He became one of the first movers of the Syracuse and New York Railroad, to which he devoted some time. He was for several years President of the Board of Education. The Hamilton College conferred upon him the honorary degree of A. M.

In 1856, he was the democratic nominee for Congress, and was tendered a renomination in 1858.

On the breaking out of the rebellion, he tendered his service to the government, and the President made him a Brigadier, August 11, 1867. Gen. McClellan asked for his services, and he was with him through the Peninsular campaign, participating in the battles, and rendering important service. His timely arrival at the battle of Williamsburg was said to have saved the day. He assumed the command of the centre, and recovered the battery and ground lost by Hooker. He is highly complimented by Gen. Keyes (Off. Rep., May 14, 1862) for his coolness, excellent judgment, and the admirable dispositions of his forces.

He was promoted, June 24, to the command of Gen. Casey's Division, and July 4, made a Major-General, for his services in the field and his gallant conduct with his commands when under fire. At the battle of Fair Oaks, he had two horses shot under him.

Headley, in reference to one of these, in speaking of him (Vol. 1, p. 428), says: "Peck's horse, while dashing through the fire, received a ball through the neck; the next instant another pierced his flank. Still unhurt, this gallant commander was spurring on, when a cannon ball took off both of the hind legs of his steed; he sank to the ground. Mounting another, he cheered on the troops by his dauntless bearing." At the battle of Malvern Hill, his division occupied the extreme right of the line. In that memorable march to Harrison's Landing, the rear-guard of the whole army fell to his care, and in spite of the enemy he saved the entire trains.

In September, he assumed command of the forces south of the James. His duties here were very arduous, but he performed them with signal ability, meeting with but few losses, and preserving all the great interests intrusted to him.

During his command here, Longstreet besieged Suffolk, with from 30,000 to 40,000 men; but after continuing it from April 10 to May 3, and constructing from eight to ten miles of covered ways and field works, with such noted West Pointers as Hill, Hood, Pickett, French and Gannett, to advise with, found himself outmanœuvred, outgeneralled, and foiled in all his operations, and raised the siege in the night, with heavy losses of men and material.

The following extract from a letter written him by Gen. Meade shows the estimation in which his generalship and services were held by men qualified to judge of and appreciate them :

" That, with the limited force under your command, you should have held in check and defeated the designs of such superior numbers, is a fact of which you may well be proud, and is the most practical proof of your own skill and the gallantry of your troops."

In September, 1863, he took command of the Army of North Carolina. Here, it will be remembered, his troops were not idle, and the only disaster which occurred was that at Plymouth (surrender of Gen. Wessels to an overwhelming force), and for this Gen. Peck was never blamed. Had his requests been acceded to when he reported the ram " Albemarle " upon the stocks, the position of things would have been different.

His administration was excellent, saving large sums to the government, breaking up contraband trade, etc. He established a system of schools for whites and blacks, and pushed the colony at Roanoke Island to a success. He did much for the colored race, thrown upon his hands in vast numbers.

He was released from his duties here April 25, 1864, and repaired to his home for health. In July, Gen. Dix asked for his assistance, and he was assigned as second in command in the Department of the East, and was for some time upon the Canadian frontier. At the time of the assassination of the President, he was in command of the department, and issued the orders to the military, etc. At the great meeting in Wall Street, N. Y., he paid a high tribute to the memory of the late chief magistrate. At the commemoration of the raising of the flag by Gen. Anderson over Fort Sumter, he was President of the day, and delivered an address at the Academy of Music.

At the conclusion of the war, he returned again to the pursuits of civil life. His residence is at Syracuse, N. Y.

He has been a communicant of the Protestant Episcopal Church many years, and served as Vestryman and Warden of St. Paul's.

He was a delegate to the National Democratic Convention of 1856, and to the Charleston and Baltimore Convention of 1860; and Delegate at Large to the Cleveland Convention of Soldiers and Sailors in 1866. He was tendered a professorship in the Virginia Military Institute in 1860.

(983) Charles; (984) Myron; and (985) Betsey.

DESCENDANTS OF HENRY PECK, OF NEW HAVEN, CONNECTICUT.

Henry Peck early settled at New Haven. He was among the first settlers there in the spring of 1638. He and Deacon William Peck, who also settled there in 1638, were doubtless relatives, and may have been brothers. They are supposed to have emigrated to this country in the company of Gov. Eaton, with the Rev. John Davenport and others, who arrived at Boston, June 26, 1637, in the ship "Hector."

Who his progenitors were has not yet been ascertained. I have found none of the descendants to second any efforts of mine to do so, although many of them are abundantly able. He signed the fundamental agreement or compact of the settlers, made June 4, 1639, and took an active interest in the management and affairs of the settlement. His home lot was in that part of the town now the city. A portion of it, on what is now George Street, continues in the possession of his descendants. He died in 1651. His will is dated October 30, 1651.

CHILDREN — SECOND GENERATION:

(1)+Eleazer, bap. March 13, 1643; (2)+Joseph, bap. Sept. 5, 1647; (3)+Benjamin, bap. Sept. 5, 1647; (4) Elizabeth, b. March 16, 1649, and bap. March 24, 1650. She m. John Hotchkiss, Dec. 4, 1672.

These baptisms are upon the church records. The birth of Elizabeth is upon the town records.

Mr. Savage says, in his Genealogical Dictionary, that there were two sons by the name of Eleazer, one dying young. There may have been, but I found but one name on record. Mr. Savage and others also say that Joseph and Benjamin were twins; but if there is any evidence of it upon the records, I failed to find it.

The following is the entry as it stands upon the record, with the two preceding entries, which I give to show its relation to them:

"Mary Hooker daughter of M^r William Hooker bap 5-7*-1647

Susannah & John Brasy y^e same day

Joseph & Benjamin Peck y^e same day"

They were both baptized the same day that Mary Hooker was, Sept. 5, 1647, but I see nothing in the record which indicates that they were twins.

*The 7th month Old Style was September.

[1.] ELEAZER² PECK, son of HENRY,¹ married Mary Bunnell, of New Haven, daughter of William Bunnell, October 31, 1671, and settled in Wallingford, Conn., where they lived and died. She was born May 4, 1650, and died July 20, 1724, in her 75th year. He died in 1734, in his 91st year. June 5, 1730. He was the executor of his father's will, and administered upon his mother's estate.

[19.] JOHN³ PECK, son of JOSEPH,² lived and died in New Haven upon the paternal homestead, located on what is now George, below Church Street, (still occupied by the descendants of Henry, now more than two hundred years since his decease.) He married Esther Morris, January 30, 1706-7.

CHILDREN — FOURTH GENERATION:

(71)+Joseph, b. Jan. 27, 1707-8; (72)+Eliphalet, b. March 4, 1710; (73) John, b. Aug. 30, 1712, d. young. The widow m. John Mix. She was appointed guardian of the children, Jan. 5, 1720-1. Joseph chose his uncle Samuel his guardian, and James was afterwards appointed guardian for Eliphalet. Samuel was appointed to administer upon the estate, June 6, 1720, New Haven Records, B. 5, p. 28. The court ordered the property divided. One-third was set to the widow. The remainder was divided into four parts, of which Joseph, the eldest son, had two, and Eliphalet and John each one. To Joseph was set a right in the dwelling-house and homestead. To Eliphalet, a part of the old and new house and a part of the orchard. To John, a part of the old and new house, with the barn and a part of the orchard. Where the original boundaries of this lot were, and where the orchard was located, might now be of interest to the antiquarian, or the curious, among the descendants, to learn. A gentleman, Mr. Nathan Peck, to whom I am indebted for much of my information upon the subject, informs me that he well remembers when there were ancient fruit trees standing there, one of which was removed some fifty years since, then supposed to have been more than one hundred years old. The estate was purchased of the widow and heirs of John by his brother James, and by him conveyed to James, jr., and by him to Stephen and others.

[24.] BENJAMIN³ PECK, son of BENJAMIN,² at first settled in New Haven, and from there removed to Norwich, West Farms, now Franklin, Conn. He was admitted a freeman there in 1700. He was a man of wealth and distinction. His wife Mary died March 3, 1728. He died May 31, 1742.

[70.] STEPHEN⁴ PECK, son of JAMES,³ settled in New Haven, upon the George Street estate, so called, purchased by his father of the widow and heirs of John, grandson of Henry the Ancestor. The house in which Stephen resided I am told stood upon the northeast side of the street, and was large for those days. It was doubtless the new house alluded to and set to Eliphalet and John, the great-grand-children of Henry, in the division of their father's estate. It was taken down some fifty years since, having the appearance of being very old.

Stephen married, first, Esther Munson; second, Lydia Miles.

CHILDREN — FIFTH GENERATION:

[72.] ELIPHALET⁴ PECK, son of JOHN,³ settled in Danbury. He left New Haven at an early date. It was with much labor and difficulty that I was able to trace out and find what became of him and his brother Joseph. It was supposed that they, as well as their brother John, might have died without issue; and had it not been for the information given me, and the generous kindness shown me by Rev. George Peck, of Providence, Penn., a descendant of Eliphalet, and his earnest desire that his branch of the name might be traced back and connected with its proper ancestor, I, perhaps, never should have traced them out, and should thus have left out of the history their descendants, who, it will be seen, are a very important branch of the name. I had found Mr. Peck and his brothers, and learned the distinguished positions they occupied, but was unable to connect them either with the Connecticut or Massachusetts Pecks, or to tell to what branch of the name they belonged, until he gave me the name of his great-grand-father, and assured me he was of Danbury, Conn. After a careful examination of my manuscripts and papers, I came to the conclusion that his branch could be no other than the descendants of the Joseph or Eliphalet whom I had been unable to follow beyond their youth, and the appointment of their guardians, and determined to settle the matter, if possible, beyond any doubt upon the subject. I visited Danbury, and the adjoining towns, but could learn from none of the records, or aged persons I found, where the Danbury Pecks were from, or who the Ancestor was. I had already examined the town, Church, Probate and Land Records, at New Haven, but a more protracted examination afterwards enabled me, with other evidence, to decide the matter, and there is now no question but that Joseph and Eliphalet were the Ancestors of the Danbury Pecks, and the descendants of Henry, of New Haven.

Eliphalet lived and died in Danbury, at an advanced age. The Church Records at Bethel show that he and his wife Rebecca and son Jesse became members at its organization.

[249.] CAPT. BELA⁵ PECK, of Revolutionary memory, son of JOSEPH,⁴ resided at Norwich, Conn., where he died, December 15, 1850, in the 93d year of his age. During a long life, industry, energy, prudence, firmness and integrity, were the leading traits of his character. He had strong common sense, and great practical wisdom.

He was twice married: first, to Miss Betsey Billings, daughter of Capt. William Billings, October 20, 1787; second, to Mrs. Lydia Spaulding, widow of Asa Spaulding, August 18, 1819. His first wife died November 24, 1818, aged 54 years. His second wife died August 18, 1835, aged 68 years.

CHILDREN — SIXTH GENERATION:

(477) William Billings, b. Nov. 30, 1788. He d. Dec. 18, 1805, while a student at Yale College; (478) Charlotte, b. Oct. 21, 1790. She m. Ebenezer Learned, Esq., of New London, Oct. 10, 1808. She d. in 1819, leaving three children: Betsey P.,⁷ Ebenezer, jr.,⁷ and *Billings P.*⁷ Learned.—Betsey P., b. Nov. 1809, m. Rev. Robert McEnen, and resides in New London, Conn. Ebenezer, b. Nov. 1811, is a graduate of Yale College, and resides in Norwich, where he studied and practised law, and is now President of Norwich Fire Insurance Company. Billings P., b. June 1813, is a graduate of Yale College; resides in Albany, N. Y., and is President of the Union Bank. (479) Harriet, the youngest daughter of Capt. Bela Peck, was b. March 17, 1795. At the age of 12 years, she was taken by her father to Bethlehem, Pa., and placed in the celebrated Moravian School at that place. She remained there during 1807-8, and finished her school studies at Hartford, in 1809.

On May 11, 1812, at the early age of 17 years, she was married to William Williams, of Norwich, Conn. She accompanied her husband to Europe in 1823, and resided one year in France. Since that time, her home has been in Norwich, in which city she has, for the past quarter of a century, exerted an influence as marked as it has been beneficent.

Mrs. Williams inherited from her father those distinguishing characteristics to which his success in life was due, — a clear, active mind, a discriminating judgment, unusual business tact, and untiring energy. Her generous impulses are continually prompting her to well directed acts of kindness and benevolence.

In 1856, Mrs. Williams founded and liberally endowed the "Peck Library," in the Norwich Free Academy, which will remain a permanent and lasting memorial of her own generosity, and her father's name.

Gen. Williams, her husband, was born in Stonington, Conn., March 12, 1788. At an early age he was employed in a shipping house in New York City, where he received a thorough mercantile training. For several years after their marriage he was engaged in manufacturing, at Norwich Falls.

From 1821 to 1827, he performed a number of successful commercial voyages to Europe and South America.

In 1828, he engaged in the whaling business, in New London, where he established the house of Williams & Barns. Though residing in Norwich, he has continued to be interested in, and connected with this business, up to the present time.

In 1833, he was instrumental in establishing the Merchants Bank, of Norwich, of which institution he was chosen first President. This office he held for twenty-five years, resigning the same at the age of 70.

In 1858, he, with a few other public spirited gentlemen, organized and endowed the Norwich Free Academy, which has proved one of the model high schools of New England. He is now President of the Board of Trustees of this institution.

He united with the Congregational church in 1820, and has ever been active in good works. He is a corporate member of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions, and Vice-President of the Bible, Seaman's Friend, and Home Missionary Societies.

For a score of years, Gen. Williams has devoted a large portion of his time to the promotion of the cause of education in Eastern Connecticut. During many seasons he visited annually nearly every district school within twenty miles of his house, distributing among them useful books and papers, and encouraging both teachers and pupils by his words of advice and the interest he evinced in their welfare.

He has always manifested an especial interest in the moral and religious condition of the Mohegan Indians, living on a government reservation a few miles from Norwich; and by his personal effort, and weekly visits, the church situated in their midst has in a great measure been sustained.

He still continues active, promoting by his means and influence every benevolent enterprise, at home or abroad, which commends itself to his judgment.

Their children are: William Peck^d Williams, b. May 1813, d. Feb. 1815; Thomas Wheeler^d Williams, b. June 1815, d. Sept. 12, 1855, aged 40 years. His early training was for the mercantile profession, which he received in the counting-house of Messrs. Grinnell, Minturn & Co., New York. From there, at the age of 20, he entered the counting-house of Messrs. Williams & Barns, New London, who were in the whaling business. He soon became a partner, and during the last fifteen years of his life was extensively engaged in the commerce of New London. He was an honorable, practical, successful merchant. Bela Peck^d Williams, their youngest son, b. April 12, 1817, d. July 6, 1831, of brain fever, from too severe application to his studies, in preparation for college. He was a youth of much promise.

[726.] GEORGE⁷ PECK, son of LUTHER,⁶ resides at Scranton, Penn. He is a clergyman of the Methodist Episcopal church. He commenced his labors in 1816, being then 19 years of age. In 1821, he had charge of the church at Paris, N. Y., and during the two following years was stationed at Utica. In 1824, he was appointed Presiding Elder on the Susquehanna District. He was also a member of the General Conference which met that year, and he has been elected a delegate to every General Conference since that time, making in all twelve. He was also a member of the Evangelical Alliance, which met in London in 1846.

As a scholar and student, he ranks high. Endowed with cool, strong sense, and possessed of great logical acumen, his keenest weapons were early called into use for the defence of the faith. In 1825, he was challenged to a public debate, by a Unitarian, at Kingston, Penn., and won an acknowledged victory. The following year he accepted a challenge to write in a Universalist magazine, which led to the publication of his first work, which was entitled "Universalism Examined." In 1835, he received the degree of Master of Arts, from the Wesleyan University; and in the fall of that year was elected Principal of the Oneida Conference Seminary at Cazenovia, where he remained four years, being then appointed Presiding Elder on the Susquehanna District, for the second time. In 1840, he received the degree of Doctor of Divinity, from the college at Augusta, Ky.; and the same year was elected editor of the Methodist Quarterly Review, which post he occupied eight years, during which time the Review rose to a high literary standard. In 1848, he was elected editor of the Christian Advocate and Journal, in which capacity he served four years. In 1852, at the solicitation of numerous friends, he returned to the Wyoming Conference, the scene of his early labors; and since then he has been six years a Pastor, and eight years a Presiding Elder.

As an author, Dr. Peck stands deservedly high. The following are his principal works: "Universalism Examined"; "History of the Apostles and Evangelists"; "Christian Perfection"; "Rule of Faith"; "Reply to Dr. Bascom's Defence of American Slavery"; "Manly Character"; "History of Wyoming"; "Early Methodism"; "Our Country; its Trials and its Triumphs."

Dr. Peck ranks high as a preacher. His style is clear, logical and convincing. In his discourses, the argument rises in massive proportions, his soul seems to glow with religious fervor; and when the theme calls forth all his strength, the truth sways the audience with resistless power. In church legislation and discipline, he has frequently been called to occupy positions of responsibility, demanding the highest qualifications of judgment, fidelity, and sometimes courage, and he has always acquitted himself with honor. As a patriot, his volume of sermons on the country and the Rebellion, his numerous addresses, delivered in times of national disaster and gloom, are a noble record of steadfast faith and devotion to the right.

As a man, Dr. Peck is loved by all who know him, and most by those who know him best; a judicious counsellor, a sympathizing friend, an affectionate husband and father, a noble hearted man. Thus holding on his way through a long and useful life, he carries in his remembrance the records of half a century of stirring history, in which he has acted a part, and still remains vigorous and active, enjoying a serene, cheerful, Christian old age. He married Mary Myers, daughter of Philip Myers, Esq., of Kingston, Penn., June 10, 1819.

[732.] JESSE T.⁷ PECK, son of LUTHER,⁶ is a clergyman of the Methodist Episcopal church, with which he united in 1827. In 1829, he was licensed as a local preacher, and July 12, 1832, he was received into the Oneida Conference, and stationed successively at Dryden, Newark Valley, Skaneateles and Potsdam. By a division of the territory, he became a member of the Black River Conference. He was subsequently elected Principal of the Gouverneur Wesleyan Seminary, in St. Lawrence County, where he remained four years. He then became Principal of the Troy Conference Academy, in West Poughkeepsie, Vt., where he labored very successfully in the cause of education for seven years, being a member of the Troy Conference during this period. In 1848, he resigned the principalship at the Conference Academy, to accept the Presidency of Dickinson College, at Carlisle, Penn., one of the oldest colleges in the United States, where he remained four years. During this latter period, he was a member of the Baltimore Conference. He then became pastor of the Foundry Church in Washington, D. C., where he remained two years. After this, he was appointed Secretary and Editor of the Tract Society of the M. E. church, and performed the duties of this office with great zeal and ability. Subsequently to this, he became pastor of Green Street Church in the city of New York. He was then transferred by the Board of Bishops to California, where he labored as pastor of important churches and Presiding Elder, for nearly eight years. On returning East, on account of the state of Mrs. Peck's health, he served for a time as pastor of St. Paul's church in Peekskill, N. Y., whence he was transferred to the Troy Conference, and stationed at Hudson Street church in Albany, where he now resides.

As will be seen by the preceding outline of his labor, Dr. Peck has thus far led a very busy life, and has had many important interests intrusted to his hands by the church and the community. It may be added, that while in preaching and teaching he has been "in labors abundant," his pen has not been idle. Contributing largely to certain leading periodicals, he has also found time to write several volumes of permanent value. He is the author of the works entitled "The Central Idea of Christianity"; "The True Women"; "What must I do to be Saved?" and "The History of the Great Republic, considered from a Christian Standpoint." He has also been four times a member of the General Conference; and at the election of Bishops, in 1864, Dr. Peck received the highest number of votes among the candidates not elected. He was afterwards elected editor of the Northern Christian Advocate; but, deeming it his duty to return to California, he declined this important office. He married Persis Wing, October 13, 1831, daughter of Capt. David Wing, of West Dennis, Barnstable Co., Mass. They have no children.

DESCENDANTS OF DEACON PAUL PECK,

OF HARTFORD, CONNECTICUT.

DEACON PAUL PECK is supposed to have been born in Essex County, England, in 1608, and to have come to this country in the ship "Defence," in 1635, and remained in Boston, Mass., or its vicinity, until 1636, and then removed to Hartford with the Rev. Thomas Hooker and his friends. His name is in the list of the proprietors of Hartford in 1639. From the records of the town, it appears that he became one of its leading men. His residence is said to have been upon what is now Washington Street, not far from Trinity College, the site of which being still known by aged persons as the "Peck lot."

I regret to have found so little interest felt in relation to him, or in my endeavors to trace out and give a history of his descendants. A very few have offered their assistance; many have refused to answer my letters, or give the information asked of them.

He was Deacon of the Congregationalist Church from 1681 until his decease, December 23, 1695. His will is upon the Probate Records, B. 5, pp. 217-18-19, dated June 25, 1695, and proved January 15, 1695-6. It is quite lengthy, and is of interest in its details and descriptions of his property. His inventory amounted to £536 and 5s.

He makes bequests to his wife Martha, sons Paul and Joseph; his daughters Martha Cornwell, Mary Andrew, Sarah Clark and Elizabeth How; his grandsons Paul and Samuel; and his son-in-law John Shepherd.

He also names his granddaughter Ruth Beach, and son-in-law Joseph Bonton, to whom Samuel was required to pay legacies.

* It is difficult to tell upon the records at Hartford whether this name is Muzzy, Mowry, or Merry.

† He is said to have been killed by a British officer, who was so exasperated at the deadly aim of Paul's gun among his men, that he seized it and bent it over the wall behind which he had fought. This gun, I am told by Benjamin Peck, of Palenville, N. Y., grandson of the brother of Paul, was recovered, straightened and repaired, and always known by the name of Paul's hunting gun.

Paul and his brothers, he tells me, were the first to carry guns into Litchfield, and that he now has in his possession the two owned by his brothers.

DESCENDANTS OF DEACON WILLIAM PECK, OF NEW HAVEN, CONNECTICUT.

The following account of some of the male descendants of Deacon WILLIAM PECK, of New Haven, Conn., intended to present sufficient of the genealogy of his descendants to identify and distinguish them from those of other branches of the same patronymic, was furnished me by Judge Darius Peck, of Hudson, N. Y. He informed me that he was preparing a history of them himself, which makes it improper and unnecessary for me to give a more extended one.

[1.] WILLIAM PECK was born in London, England, in 1601. His progenitors are unknown. With his wife Elizabeth and his then only child Jeremiah, he emigrated to this country in the ship "Hector," arriving at Boston, June 26, 1637, in the company of Gov. Eaton, Rev. John Davenport, and others, and was one of the founders of the New Haven Colony in the spring of 1638. He was a merchant by occupation, a man of high standing in the Colony, and a deacon of the church in New Haven from 1659 until his decease, October 4, 1694, at the advanced age of 93 years. His tombstone is still standing in the cemetery of New Haven.

His sons were: (2) Jeremiah; (3) John; and (4) Joseph.

Jeremiah was the first teacher of the Colony Collegiate School, in New Haven, in 1660–1661; the first settled minister in Saybrook, Conn., in the fall of 1661; in Elizabethtown, N. J., in 1669 or 1670; in Greenwich, Conn., in 1678; and in Waterbury, Conn., in 1690, where he died, June 7, 1699, in his 77th year.

[3.] John settled in Wallingford, Conn., in 1672, and died there in 1724, aged 86 years.

[4.] Joseph settled about 1662, in Lyme, Conn., where he was a Justice of the Peace and Deacon of the Church, and died in 1718, in the 78th year of his age.

son of Samuel, jr., had four sons born in Greenwich from 1742 to 1758, viz: (24) John, jr.; (25) Heath; (26) Nathan; and (27) Abijah. John, jr., was a soldier in the French war until the peace of 1763, and died in Smyrna, N. Y., in 1819, aged 77. Heath and Nathan died while in service, during the Revolutionary war, through which Abijah also served as a soldier, and afterwards became a Baptist minister in Clifton Park, N. Y., where he died in 1848, in the 91st year of his age. His son (28) Abijah, jr., was, in 1841, a member of the Legislature of the State of New York. Another son, (29) Solomon C., and a grandson (30) John, are living in Clifton Park, N. Y. (31) Nathan, and (32) John, sons of John, jr., were Baptist ministers. The latter was somewhat distinguished as such, and died in 1849, in the 70th year of his age. His three sons: (33) Darius, (34) Philetus B., and (35) Linus M., were liberally educated, the first being a lawyer, residing in Hudson, N. Y., and the last two Baptist ministers, who died in early life in 1847. Another son of John, jr., (36) Stephen N., resides in Solon, N. Y., in the 89th year of his age.

[15.] Nathaniel was for several years a Justice of the Peace, in Greenwich, Conn., where he died, in 1765, aged 68 years. His grandson, (37) Jonathan Richard, settled in Flushing, Long Island, N. Y., in 1790, and became the progenitor of the numerous families of his surname in that locality. He was a man of great sagacity and enterprise, and died there in 1822, aged 54 years. His son (38) Richard was an Episcopal clergyman, in Sheldon, Vt., where he died in 1846, aged 46 years. His grandson, George W., resides in New York City. (39) George W., son of (40) Walter, who was the great-grandson of the above-named Nathaniel, has been a member of Congress from the State of Michigan, and resides in Lansing, in that State.

[17.] Theophilus had a grandson (41) David, who was a Baptist minister in Greenwich, and died there in 1835, aged 81 years. His grandson (42) David graduated at Yale College, in 1849; is a Congregational minister, and resides in Barre, Mass. (43) Isaac, another grandson of Theophilus, was a member of the Legislature of Connecticut; resided at Round Hill, in Greenwich, Conn., and died there in 1860, aged 83 years. His only son (44) Isaac, a graduate of Yale College, in 1821, is an of Connecticut. Many of his descendants reside in East Bloomfield, and in the State of Michigan.

[55.] Samuel, jr., settled in Wallingford, Conn., and died there in 1815, aged 81 years. He had sons: (65) Theophilus; (66) Samuel; (67) John; (68) Isaac; and (69) Amos, born there from 1764 to 1777.

Theophilus and Samuel in 1789, and Amos a few years later, emigrated from Wallingford to Lexington (now Jewett), N. Y., where Theophilus died in 1839, aged 75; Samuel in 1834, and Amos in 1845, each aged 68 years. The descendants of these three brothers are very numerous there, and in other parts of the country. Theophilus had a son (70) Charles, who died there in 1866, in the 77th year of his age, leaving a son (71) Alfred, who is postmaster in Jewett, N. Y. John lived in Farmington, Conn., and died there in 1811, aged 42. Two of his six sons, (72) Ira and (73) Chauncey, are living, the former in Hartford, Conn., and the latter in Windham, N. Y. (74) Henry K., a son of the former, resides in New York City. Isaac lived on the old homestead of his ancestors, in Wallingford, and died there in 1847, aged 76 years. His sons (75) Samuel and (76) Joel reside in Wallingford.

[56.] Charles died at West Point, N. Y., in 1780, while in active service in the Revolutionary army, aged 44 years. His sons who survived infancy were: (77) Jehiel; (78) Jesse; (79) Benjamin; (80) Charles, jr.; (81) Joel; and (82) John, born from 1757 to 1780. Jehiel and Benjamin were both in the Revolutionary army; the former died in Rockville, Md., about 1830, aged 73 years, and the latter in Fall River, Mass., in 1854, aged 84 years. Jesse died in Farmington, Ohio, in 1832, aged 71 years. Charles, jr., died in Shaftsbury, Vt., in 1857, aged 85 years. Joel died in Scott, N. Y., in 1851, aged 77 years, and John is said to be living in Bristol, Conn., aged 86 years.

[57.] Jesse was unmarried, and died at Lake George, N. Y., in 1758, while a soldier in the French war.

[58.] Nicholas lived in Wallingford, and died there in 1821, aged 77 years. His son (83) Jesse S. died in Buffalo, N. Y., in 1845, aged 76 years, where his son, (84) Jesse, now resides.

[59.] Joel settled in Farmington, Conn., where he died in 1842, aged 92 years. His only son (85) Jesse resided and died there in 1856, aged 78 years. His only grandson, (86) Joel, and his only great-grandson, (87) Joel W., resided there in 1865.

DESCENDANTS OF JOSEPH PECK, SON OF DEACON WILLIAM PECK.

The male descendants of Joseph Peck are far more numerous and widely extended than those of his brothers John and Jeremiah. On and soon after the close of the Revolutionary war, many of them migrated in almost every direction from the home of their common ancestor.

[4.] JOSEPH had only two sons who survived infancy: (88) Samuel, and (89) Joseph J. The sons of Samuel were: (90) Samuel, jr.; (91) William; (92) Benjamin; (93) Elijah; (94) Jedediah; (95) Daniel; and (96) Silas, all born in Lyme, Conn., from 1707 to 1724. The sons of Joseph, jr., who survived infancy, were: (97) Jasper; (98) John; (99) David; and (100) Nathaniel. The sons of Samuel and Joseph, jr., all died in Lyme. (101) Richard, a grandson of Samuel, jr., and, soon after, his brother (102) Jason, emigrated from Lyme and settled in Lexington, N. Y., or its immediate neighborhood. The former died in Durham, N. Y., in 1837, aged 84 years, and the latter in Reading, N. Y., in 1845, aged about 77 years. Another brother, (103) Abner, settled in Shelburne, Mass., where he died in 1842, aged 82 years. (104) Jedediah and (105) Elisha, sons of the above-named (93) Elijah, emigrated from Lyme, the former in 1790, the latter about 1800, and settled in Burlington, Otsego County, N. Y. The former was a man of great native ability and influence. For ten consecutive years he was a member of the Legislature of the State of New York, six years in the Assembly, and four years in the Senate, and for many years a County Judge of Otsego County, N. Y. He died in 1821, aged 73 years. (106) Jasper J., a son of (97) Jasper above-named, was a military officer in the French war, and also in service in the Revolutionary war, and died in Lyme, in 1821, aged 84 years. His son (107) Richard S. was a physician, and died in Chatham, N. Y., in 1827, where his son (108) Oliver J., a physician, now resides. (109) Oliver, a grandson of Jasper, jr., is a physician in Sheffield, Mass. (110) Reynold, jr., a grandson of Jasper, jr., was a member of the Legislature of the State of New York, in 1840, from Ontario County. Several of the descendants of Jasper, jr., and of his brother (111) Reynold, settled in West Bloomfield, N. Y., and its vicinity. (112) Charles L., a grandson of (98) John, resided in Lyme, Conn., on the homestead of the ancestor Joseph, two centuries ago. (113) William, a son of (100) Nathaniel, graduated at Yale College, in 1775. He soon after entered the Revolutionary army, in which he held the rank of Colonel, and served until October 1781. He was U. S. Marshal, of Rhode Island, from 1790 for about twenty years. He resided in Providence, R. I., where he died in 1832, in the 76th year of his age, leaving no male descendants. (114) Mather, jr., (115) David H., and (116) Richard, grandsons of Nathaniel, emigrated from Lyme; Mather, jr., and Richard to Bethany, N. Y., the former in 1806 and the latter in 1808, and David H. in 1812. In 1864, David H. was living in Middletown, Butler County, Ohio, aged 77 years, and Mather, jr., in Bethany, N. Y., aged about 79 years. Mather, jr., has a son (117) Gilbert M., residing in Bethany, N. Y.; David H. a son (118) Orandos X., residing in New York City; and Richard, jr., a son (119) Israel M., in Stafford, N. Y. (120) John M., a grandson of David, resides in Schenectady, N. Y.; and (121) Charles C., a great-grandson of David, in New York City.

ADDITIONS, ALTERATIONS AND CORRECTIONS.

I HAVE endeavored to give all the additions and make all the alterations and corrections which I have been asked to make, or which have been found necessary. Many of these were received while the work was in the press, too late to be made elsewhere; and many of them even after it was printed, while the index was being prepared. It was found impossible to collect so many names, — about eleven thousand, with as many dates, — and carry them through the press without the necessity of alterations and corrections.

After the arrangement of the work, it was carefully read through, and compared with the letters, records and documents from which it had been compiled. Where different dates of the same events, and different names of the same individuals and children, were given by different persons and by the same person at different times, or where errors of any kind were suspected, letters of inquiry were written. After the work was printed, it was again read through, and all typographical errors found, however small or unimportant, pointed out, instead of leaving them to the query and conjecture of the reader as is sometimes done in such works.

Israel H. Peck, of Johnstown, Ohio, informs me, in relation to his branch of the name, that his grandfather, Benjamin, and Cyrus, the brother of his grandfather, lived and died in King's County, Nova Scotia. Cyrus kept a public house at Kentsville. After his grandfather, Benjamin, died, his father, whose name was also Benjamin, came to the States, and settled at Johnstown, Ohio, in 1817, where he died in 1819, leaving eight children, — four sons and four daughters. One of the sons, Samuel, was residing at Marquette, Mich., in 1864. He supposes that his grandfather came from England to Nova Scotia.

Joseph Peck was born in Bolton, Conn., in 1761, and died in Irasburgh, Vt., in 1850. His brother Jonathan died leaving a family of fourteen children. His widow and son, Russell, were residing in Keene, N. H., in 1863. Joseph was a Methodist clergyman. His sons were John, Joseph, Joel S., and Jared. Jared was residing in Potton, Canada East, in 1863. John died in Irasburgh, Vt., in 1852. His children are Joel, Charlotte, Ann, Freeman S., of Salem, Mass.; Melissa K., Dyer H., of Boston, Mass.; Abigail L., Margaret G., John; Alonzo D., a merchant of Boston; William F.; and Elisha S., who resides in Salem. Joel S. resides in Worcester, Mass. His children are John M., Joël J., of Worcester, Cyrus F., Maria J.; Tyler S., who was killed on the Norwich and Worcester Railroad, June 18, 1866; Mary E., Almira and Charlotte.

Add, in relation to Warren E. Peck, page 231, at bottom, — He was drowned on the 12th of Sept., 1868, while attempting to cross a stream in the Belleview Valley, Mo., swollen by a flood.

He was assessor and deputy sheriff, and, at the time of the melancholy event, was returning home from the performance of his official duties. The following is among the resolutions passed at a meeting of Camp Willson, Post No. 7, G. A. R., Ironton, Mo., where he was Junior Vice-Commander: —

"Resolved, that in the death of our comrade our society has sustained an irreparable loss, our community been deprived of a good citizen, our country of a true patriot, our county of a faithful official, his wife a kind and affectionate husband, and his children an indulgent father."

The Ironton paper said of him: "As a friend, neighbor, and officer, his loss is deeply felt; as a soldier he made himself an enviable record; and as a citizen and public officer he was universally liked."

Add in relation to Wyllys Peck (811) page 315. He died April 22, 1869. Mr. Peck was one of the prominent men of New Haven, highly esteemed as a citizen, as a business man, and for his faithful performance of the duties intrusted to him by the public. He was for many years of the firm of Bryan & Peck, and subsequently engaged with his brothers in the West India trade. He was for several years one of the Aldermen of the city and held various public trusts. Page 321, fourteen lines from bottom, for 1860 read 1864. INDEX.

A general index of the names of all the Pecks in the work was at first prepared, but it was found to contain so large a number of such names as Mary, John, William, and other common names, as to make it the work of too much labor and perplexity for a person to find their own name or that of the person sought for among them. It was therefore thought best to not only reduce its size by making a separate index for the appendix, but by dividing that into separate ones for each branch of the name which it contains.

To still further facilitate finding the name and identifying the persons, a local index of the parents in the several branches of the name, with their residence,* has been given. By this a person will be able to find their own or the name of their parents with much more ease and facility. To find them by the former might have been the work of hours; by this it is comparatively but the work of a moment.

DIRECTIONS.

To find the name of a female, or of a child, or of a person who has no family, look for the name of the father† with his family, and you not only find their name, but the names of their brothers and sisters.

To find the father with his family, look for the same number in brackets which stands against his name in the index.

When there is a star against the name in the index, look for it in the numerals or consecutive numbers, and you will find the person and whatever is said of him or his children, in connection with or immediately following his father's family.

In the appendix, the numerals or consecutive numbers are inclosed in parentheses.

When the name of the father is found, he may be readily traced back and his ancestors learned or traced forward, and his descendants found.

Take as an example the name of Thomas Peck, whose number in the index and in brackets, with his family, is 2642. Turn back to this number in the numerals or consecutive numbers, and you find him and his father, Thomas, and all the family. Look at the left of his father's name, and you have in brackets the number 2601. Turn back to that number in the numerals, and

* Some of these residences may have been incorrectly given me, or may have been changed, but as it would so much help to identify the persons and facilitate tracing out their descendants it was thought best to give them. It was preferred rather than the plan of giving the dates of births.

† The general index may be referred to when the parents are unknown.

you find the family of his grandfather, Nathaniel, — who are his uncles* and aunts. Look at the left of his grandfather's name, and you have the number 2592; look for that number in the numerals, and you find the family of his great-grandfather, Nathaniel. Look at the left of his name, and you have the number 2588. Look for that number in the numerals, and you have the family of his great-great-grandfather Nathaniel, who was born at Hingham, Mass, after his father came over to this country.

To trace Thomas forward and find his descendants, turn to his number 2642 in brackets, and you find this + sign before the names of his sons, indicating that they became parents, and are carried forward to the same number in brackets which is here against their names, where they and their families may be found.

Take Philip as an example. Turn forward to his number, 2726 in brackets, and you find him and his family of nine children. As the families are not carried forward beyond this generation, the grandchildren immediately follow the children; and it will be seen that you have before you the names of nine⁸ children, fifty⁹ grandchildren, and five¹⁰ great-grandchildren, who are of the tenth generation,† being the grandchildren, the great-grandchildren, and the great-great-grandchildren of Thomas, his descendants, through his son Philip.

EXPLANATIONS.

IN the arrangement of the work, the numerals or consecutive numbers at the left of the names represent the number of each person individually from the ancestor.

This + sign placed before a name indicates that the person becomes a parent, and refers forward to the number of that person, inclosed in brackets, where he and his family may be found.

When the name is not carried forward to another place in the book, whatever is said of the person is said in connection with or immediately following the father's family.

The figures in brackets at the left of the name refer back to the numerals or consecutive numbers where that person and his father's family may be found.

The small figures over the names and above the line represent the number of the generation to which the person belongs.

* It will be seen that this sign + is placed before the names of his uncles; which indicates that they became parents, and are carried forward to the same number in brackets, which here stands against their names, where they and their families may be found without again turning to the index; each may also be traced back through their ancestry, or forward through their descendants, without turning to the index.

† It will be seen by the chart or pedigree that the ancestor Joseph is traced back in England through his ancestors, by authentic records certified to by the Heralds, twenty generations; which, added to the ten in this country, makes thirty generations through which the name is traced.
